Wessin

He's Out He's Back

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — U.S. embassy sources said early today that Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin had agreed to resign from the Dominican Republic's military service, then changed his mind.

The U.S. government had pressed for the resignation as a conciliatory move to the Dominican rebels whose revolt Wessin's troops blocked. For many Dominicans Wessin had become the symbol of loyalist opposition to the Rebel movement for a return to "constitutional government."

U.S. sources said Wessin sent a letter Sunday to U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett in which he expressed a willingness to resign from the army for the good of the country. The letter was written after he met with Bennett and Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of 21,000 U.S. Marines and paratroopers in the Dominican Republic.

Col. Francisco Camacho Dero, the rebel-proclaimed provisional president, has been demanding that Wessin resign and go abroad.

Holed up in a maze of crowded apartment houses and business buildings, the rebels showed no tendency Monday to capitulate to a tank and howitzer-bombed force of U.S. and Dominican troops surrounding them.

Rejecting an invitation to quit the revolt, Camacho's lieutenant appeared to be organizing their stronghold in Ciudad Nueva, a low-income residential area.

Rebels Stop Talking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rebel forces in the Dominican Republic suspended peace-making negotiations with the Organization of American States Monday.

The rebels announced they would not receive, converse or negotiate further with OAS representatives until Jose A. Bonifaz Atlas is ousted as the Dominican Republic representative in the OAS.

Powderkeg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker told the Organization of American States Monday that there is a "clear and present danger" that the Dominican Republic situation will erupt into large-scale hostilities unless peace and normalcy are quickly restored.

'False Statement'

Three Liberals Deny Money from Hal Banks

OTTAWA (CP) — Three Liberal MPs from Montreal denied in the Commons Monday allegations that they received campaign contributions in the last two elections from Hal Banks, deposed leader of the Seafront International Union of Canada (Ind.) and fugitive from Canadian justice.

The denials came in separate statements by John Turner (St. Lawrence St. George), George LaChance (LaPointe) and Edmond Asselin (Notre-Dame-de-Grace).

All three rose on questions of privilege and referred to a front-page article in the Toronto Telegram saying they are reported to have received financial aid from Banks in the 1962 and 1963 general elections.

Mr. LaChance, MP for LaPointe, said the article by Norman Simons is based on a "false statement" sent to party leaders and many MPs.

Mr. Simons should be called before the bar of the Commons, he added, and asked to explain why he reported allegations in an unsigned statement without having the "decency" to check its accuracy with the people involved.

Mr. LaChance, who rose just after the supper recess, said the statement being circulated in Ottawa is a transcript of an interview with Erik Nielsen (PC Yukon) and several members of the SIU.

"MADE SUSPECT"

The mere fact that Mr. Nielsen had participated in the preparation of the document made it suspect, he said.

Mr. Nielsen reached the Commons last November with allegations that prominent Liberals attempted bribery and political pressure last summer in vain efforts to obtain bail for narcotics suspect Lucien Rivard. The allegations led to a judicial inquiry, on which Chief Justice Frederic Durois of Quebec Superior Court is expected to report next month.

South Korean Plot Ended

SEOUL (UPI) — The government Monday announced the arrest of at least seven army officers and some civilians for plotting a coup against South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

Sources here said Park had the situation well in hand and that it seemed unlikely the alleged plot would force postponement of his trip to the United States next Sunday.

About 40 alleged conspirators were under house arrest.

Russian Goal Moon Landing?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia's new mystery space probe will try to take photographs of the moon, and may even attempt something more spectacular in an effort to go one-up on the American lunar program, unofficial sources said today.

Moscow observers said the Russians might attempt to beat the U.S. surveyor program in making a soft landing of an instrument package on the moon. The latest report said the 3,247.3-pound Soviet craft, crammed with scientific equipment, was on "a course close to the planned one" and headed "in the direction of the moon."

It said Luna-5 had traveled 68,300 miles on the 250,000-mile trip. It was expected to arrive in the vicinity of the moon sometime tomorrow.

Residents Convinced

Atomic Shadow Enshrouds Comox Valley

COURTENAY (Special) — Whether nuclear warheads are here or not, everyone in the Comox Valley feels sure they are living in the shadow of atomic bombs.

Ottawa reports Monday said special warheads for Genie air-to-air missiles were moved into RCAF Station Comox under a strict security curtain during the weekend.

Defence Minister Hellyer and Comox officials refused to confirm or deny the reports, leaving everyone in Comox, Courtenay and Cumberland insisting they are sure the warheads are here.

The report quoted "top sources" as saying the warheads will be stored on the base and attached for firing only in the event of a continental emergency.

In the Commons, Mr. Hellyer said in a reply to a question from Tom Barnett (NDP—Comox-Alberni) that "a number of RCAF aircraft now have this (nuclear) capability" but refused to "give specifics" about Comox or any other Canadian base.

LET PEOPLE KNOW
The reports said Mr. Hellyer and Mr. Barnett appeared to have made an arrangement to let the people of B.C. know the warheads had arrived.

At the same time, the wording of their exchange avoided violation of the Canada-U.S. agreement under which the minister can't say which stations have nuclear weapons.

AMERICANS HERE
A contingent of more than 30 U.S. personnel, led by Major H. Crutcher, has been at the base for months.

The warheads stored at Comox under U.S. authority and guard can be carried only by RCAF planes on order from the U.S. president after agreement with Canada's prime minister. They are for the Voodoo jets of Comox 408 Nighthawk Squadron.

NO COMMENT
Comox commanding officer Group Capt. E. G. Ireland declined comment on both the warheads and the Victoria-Comox peace march scheduled to start later this month.

The marchers hope to enter the base and say that, if they are barred, they will stage a sit-down on access roads for 24 hours or until arrested.

Air force spokesmen indicated Monday the marchers will not be allowed to enter the base and a campaign is planned to counteract any sit-down. They would not give details.

Soviets See Stalin Film

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet movie audience saw Monday night what would have been an unimaginable less than a year ago — filmed sequences showing Stalin.

The documentary, The Great Fatherland War, showed Stalin making his radio broadcast of July 3, 1941, in which he called for a people's war against the German invaders.

Klan Probe In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Alabama Attorney General Richmond Flowers said Monday he intends to investigate the Ku Klux Klan, whether or not the probe is supported by Governor George Wallace.

"We're going to do something," said Flowers, a frequent critic of the segregationist governor's racial policies. "If I don't hear from him (Wallace), then I'm going ahead."

Gun Battle in U.S. Mess Hall

REDS CAPTURE, LOSE MAJOR CITY

SAIGON (UPI)—Communist Viet Cong rebels today stormed a provincial capital 75 miles northeast of Saigon, killing five Americans and wounding 11 others.

Killers Flee Hospital

WATERBURY, Vt. (UPI) — Five inmates of the Waterbury State Mental Hospital, two of them killers, escaped from the institution late Monday night.

The men stole a late model car from the hospital parking lot after fleeing the minimum security institution.

State police described the men as "potentially dangerous."

One of the fugitives was identified as Robert Murray, 37, of Richmond, recently transferred to the hospital from a prison where he was serving a life term for murder.

Another was identified as Kent Hanson, 21, of Brattleboro, committed after being found mentally incompetent to stand trial for the rifle slaying of his young wife.

Trouble, Toil, Rubble

Three residents of Nebraska village of Princeton search through knee-deep rubble, beneath wind-shattered trees, as cleanup starts following Saturday tornadoes that killed four, injured nine and wiped out 200-yard path down main street.—(AP).

Cold Shoulder for Martin

Curt Snub Handed Warsaw Pact Idea

LONDON (CP)—NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio Monday curtly dismissed Canadian External Affairs Minister Martin's suggestion that alliance members now might consider a non-aggression pact with the Communist bloc in Europe.

He was asked at a press conference on the eve of the opening of NATO's spring meeting of foreign ministers whether he thought this might be an appropriate time to consider such a pact with the Warsaw powers.

"No," Brosio said without any elaboration.

South Dakota Snowed Under

To Keep Traffic Moving

New RCMP Patrol for Freeway

RCMP has set up a 25-member freeway patrol in the Fraser Valley, Attorney General Bonner said Monday. Its members will stress traffic management — keeping freeway traffic moving in safety — rather than enforcement, he said.

The freeway patrol is the first to be set up in Canada by the federal force. In Ontario and Quebec, freeways are patrolled by the provincial police forces.

Freeway traffic control systems throughout North America were studied before the new detachment was set up.

Mr. Bonner said there will also be increased stress on traffic management by other RCMP highway patrols throughout the province.

Up-Island, said the attorney-general, highway patrols have been "slightly" strengthened to handle this new role.

Courtesy patrols of the highway department will continue to assist RCMP in traffic management, particularly at "sticky spots" like bridges and turnoffs, Mr. Bonner said.

Chairman George Stevens said the Vancouver Island Traffic Observer Corps will keep an eye out for flagrant driving offences. Members will do this work during regular driving rather than on a regular patrol basis.

Inside Job At Haney

HANEY, B.C. (CP) — Apparently one of the prisoners at the Haney Correctional Institute hasn't learned that crime does not pay.

Prison officials questioned a number of inmates following the theft of $400 from a safe in the institute's administration office.

The institute is a minimum security prison about 30 miles east of Vancouver.

Manitoba Adopts Red Ensign

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba legislature gave its final approval Monday to a provincial flag resembling the Red Ensign.

The legislature gave third reading to a bill to establish the flag. All that now is required to make the bill law is formal proclamation by Lieutenant-Governor Erick Willis.

Trade Favored With East Bloc

STRASBOURG, France (Reuters) — The European Economic Community's parliament came out Monday in favor of increased trade with Communist countries, especially those of eastern Europe.

Mystery Bullets Nick Bush Pilot

LYNN LAKE, Man. (CP)—Bush pilot Morley Wilson nursed a scratched forehead Monday as RCMP tried to find out who fired four bullets into his plane.

Wilson, a 19-year-old pilot with Dolphin Airways Ltd. in this mining town 25 miles south of the Manitoba-Northwest Territories border, was approaching Lynn Lake runway for a landing Sunday, when one bullet glanced off a propeller tip. Another went through the right side window of the aircraft, through the peak of Wilson's hat and out just above the left window.

He got a "few scratches" on the forehead, possibly from flying particles of the punctured window.

Two more bullets struck the plane farther back.

Drivers Beware!

NANAIMO (Special)—A citizens' highway safety committee is being established here to help enforce the Motor Vehicles Act, it was announced Monday.

Chairman George Stevens said the Vancouver Island Traffic Observer Corps will keep an eye out for flagrant driving offences. Members will do this work during regular driving rather than on a regular patrol basis.

OCEAN CITY, Md. (UPI) — The bodies of Nancy Carole Tyler and Robert Davis were recovered Monday from the Atlantic Ocean just offshore from Bobby Baker's Carousel Motel. Identification was made at a funeral home at Berlin, Md. Baker, who had joined the search shortly after a small private plane carrying Davis and Miss Tyler crashed in the ocean, went to the funeral home to identify Miss Tyler. Divers did not recover the wreckage of the old single-engine Waco biplane which carried the two to death Sunday. Most of it lay under 23 feet of murky water.

Announce New Healing Substance... Shrinks Piles, Checks Itch

Exclusive healing substance proven to shrink hemorrhoids...and repair damaged tissue.

A renowned research institute has found a unique healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids painlessly. It relieves itching and discomfort in minutes and speeds up healing of the injured, inflamed tissue.

One hemorrhoidal case history after another reported "very striking improvement." Pain was promptly and gently relieved... actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

Among these case histories was a variety of hemorrhoidal conditions. Relief even occurred in cases of long standing, and most important of all, results were so thorough that this improvement was maintained over a period of many months. This was accomplished with a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) which quickly helps heal injured cells and stimulates growth of new tissue. Bio-Dyne is offered in ointment and suppository form called Preparation H.

In addition to actually shrinking hemorrhoids, Preparation H lubricates and makes elimination less painful. It helps prevent infection which is a principal cause of hemorrhoids.

Just ask your druggist for Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment (with a special applicator). Satisfaction or your money refunded.

Espionage Uproar in House

Action Demanded

OTTAWA (UPI) — Flooded with a barrage of criticism and demands for action against the Canadians involved, Prime Minister Pearson Monday promised a full report to the Commons on Canada's latest espionage case.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker sparked the Commons uproar by taking a different slant on the role of the unnamed Canadians in the case. He suggested they should be prosecuted for selling out their country "for illicit gain and greed."

The external affairs department said Saturday the Canadians aided police in trapping Russian embassy employees.

Anatole E. Bychkov of the commercial section and clerk Vladimir N. Poluchkin. They were expelled for trying to set up an espionage network in Canada.

'COMPROMISE'

External affairs charged the Russians had offered two Canadians "thousands of dollars" to do espionage work and to "compromise" women civil servants into working for them.

It was the fifth espionage case in Canada since the Second World War, but the first involving sexual blackmail.

Who were the Canadians and what happened to the "thousands of dollars" they were alleged to have received? The opposition demanded. How much was involved and did the men come to police voluntarily or only after being caught?

TIPPED POLKE

The announcement Saturday about the expulsion of the Russians said they were caught because the two "conscientious Canadians involved" — one a civil servant and the other a naturalized citizen — tipped the police.

Mr. Pearson said because of this co-operation "no action is taken against them." Mr. Diefenbaker stormed it cause "they talked after they were caught."

Vote to Come

No Difficulty Seen In Car-Parts Pact

OTTAWA (CP) — Industry Minister Drury said Monday he hopes "virtually no one" will be adversely affected by the Canada-United States auto agreement.

He told the Commons the government to date knows of no case of real difficulty arising from the agreement. Until such difficulties do appear, it would be useless, in the government's view, to prescribe general remedies.

The minister spoke after New Democrat Leader Douglas introduced a non-confidence amendment charging that the government failed to take steps to protect the consumer, the auto workers and the small parts manufacturer in the auto agreement.

The amendment, put forth as the House began the first supply debate of the session, again put the position of the minority Liberal government on the line.

There was little sign, however, that the government might be defeated in the vote, which must take place by tonight.

Mr. Drury said many "misconceptions" on the auto agreement arose from a misunderstanding of its basic aim. That is to produce a "very considerable" expansion in Canadian car manufacturing resulting in lower Canadian-American tariffs, a reduced Canadian balance of payments deficit and marked improvement in the efficiency of the Canadian industry.

The Douglas amendment came after Wallace Nesbitt (PC-Oxford) led off the debate for the Conservatives. He criticized the government's foreign policy but declined to bring in an amendment to put the government to a formal voting test.

There was little sign, however, that the government might be defeated in the vote, which must take place by tonight.

Mr. Drury said many "misconceptions" on the auto agreement arose from a misunder-

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — John Renshaw, premier of New South Wales, Monday conceded defeat of his Labor government in the May 1 state elections.

His announcement officially ended 24 years of continuous Labor government in the state.

There was no immediate reaction from the Liberal-Country Party opposition leader Robin Askin. Askin was expected to lead a Liberal-Country coalition government.

The election battle, one of the closest in New South Wales for many years, was marked by police action against balloting.

Sam Lane

Economical Part of Canada

'B.C. Can't Cut Ties'

British Columbia cannot cut its ties with Canada and stand on its own economically, according to a Vancouver Island Chamber of Commerce official.

"The question of how British Columbia would fare as an independent nation resolves itself into a question of economics," commented Sam Lane, immediate past president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

"In my opinion, B.C. could not exist without the cohesiveness which Canada gives this province," said the Victoria businessman.

He was commenting on a recent statement by Premier W. A. C. Bennett, that the gulf between the province and Ottawa is growing larger.

The premier charged Ottawa with doing everything possible to widen the gap.

He said while he hopes the situation can be rectified, this would require a complete 180-degree turn in federal treatment of British Columbia.

Mr. Lane claimed this talk is just the kind of normal growing pains to be expected in a future great nation.

He said while this province may be aligned geographically with the United States, "politically, socially and economically we will always be a part of Canada."

Mr. Lane said he believes when the British North America Act was written, the authors "had full knowledge that this nation might undergo testing times . . . as now, when small groups raise their voices in anti-federalism."

United Appeal Tour

Five See the Work Their Dollars Do

Representatives of a group giving strong support to the Community Chest had a look last weekend at the facilities their dollars are helping to maintain.

Six men of the Pacific Command RCN toured five of the Chest's member agencies and later told guides they had gained a new insight into United Appeal efforts.

The men, headed by Lieut. H. W. Smith, were representatives of the ships of the 4th Canadian Escort Squadron, based at Esquimalt.

They heard presentations by representatives of the Community Chest budgeting director, the Family and Children's Service, the Victorian Order of Nurses and the YM/YWCA.

The morning visits included Spencerhouse, Boy Scouts regional headquarters, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the new Silver Threads Service building, and the Elford Street centre of the Greater Victoria Association for the Retarded.

Navy Divers Have Both

Bomb Disposal Experts Need Nerve, Careful Eye

It takes cool nerves and a discerning eye to be a naval bomb disposal expert.

"We are responsible for all explosives' disposal on Vancouver Island," Lt.-Cmdr. Ward Palmer, commander of the navy's diving establishment at Onwood, explains.

Nine out of 10 bombs found by civilians are harmless, but two years ago, two Boy Scouts were killed when a mortar bomb they found near Vernon exploded.

It is never safe to take chances.

"If anyone finds an object which he suspects is a bomb,

German Shell Kills, Wounds

WINDHOEK (AP)—A German First World War artillery shell which had been lying around for 30 years exploded here Sunday, killing Willem Bezuidenhout, 7, and seriously injuring another boy. The two boys had been hammering at the shell for some time before it exploded. Before 1918, South-west Africa was a German colony.

"If any explosive is a danger to the public, it is our duty and responsibility to dispose of it."

In the past, farmers used gunpowder to blast stumps on their property. Often quantities of it would be left in a barn, and forgotten.

New farm owners often call the navy for help in disposing of the powder, which becomes extremely dangerous with age.

"Police will find bottles of what they suspect is nitroglycerin, and call us in to dispose of it."

Periodically, the disposal team tours schools, teaching children the dangers of tampering with bombs and explosives.

Worst of Five City Crashes

Young Mother, Baby Son Hurt in Two-Car Smash

A 24-year-old woman and her baby son were detained in St. Joseph's Hospital after the most serious of five Victoria accidents Sunday.

Mary L. Kermode, 849 Princess, and her 12-week-old son Michael were admitted to hospital after a two-car crash at the corner of Bay and Rose.

Mrs. Kermode suffered multiple injuries and was reported in fair condition, while her son was in fairly good condition.

Her car collided with an automobile driven by Roger Sullivan of HMCS New Glasgow.

In another accident, John Lake, 74, received superficial injuries after his motorcycle went out of control on Erie Street. He lives at 534 Ribbet.

Raymond Williams, 33, of 2740 Belmont, received head cuts after his car hit a parked vehicle at Quadra and Tolmie. His passenger, Roger Welch, 24, of 1191 Esquimalt, was treated for shock and released.

A gashed head was suffered by Patrick Harding, 1899 Foul Bay Road, when his car collided with one driven by Jessie Gordon, of 2049 Burdick.

In a more spectacular crash, Marjorie Stovel, 52, of 1823 Cook, flipped her car over on Mason. The car landed on its roof, but she was only shaken up.

Thieves Take Nothing In Church Break-In

Entry was gained through a window sometime after 11:20 p.m. and all rooms were entered.

The prowler left by a fire door.

A. C. Mitchell, 4471 Pamona Way, reported the theft of some tools from a home he is working on at 1886 Ventura Way.

Mrs. A. H. Durham, 1925 Carrek, told police that a bundle of shingles was taken from the patio of her home sometime Sunday night.

Newspaper Advertising Stimulates Buying

In 20 years, this piece of property will be worth more money—or less. For a long-term risk-free investment, London Life has a suggestion.

Why buying a London Life policy is as good as buying a piece of property (perhaps better)

The value of London Life permanent insurance is not in the lap of the gods. It is guaranteed. You don't need a large down payment. You can borrow money on it. And all the while it protects your family more completely than any other investment.

YOU MAY LIFT YOUR EYEBROWS when we compare a London Life Jubilee policy with a piece of property. But consider these facts:

(1) Investment in a piece of property usually involves some risk. A London Life Jubilee policy avoids the hazards of investment risk. The cash values of your policy are guaranteed in writing.

(2) Start modestly. $13.09 a month isn't very big league in the investment world. But invested in a London Life Jubilee whole life policy it provides protection and builds substantial savings. If you start at age 25, by the time you reach age 65 you will have had $10,000 life insurance protection for your family for 40 years—and you will have built up savings of about $13,520, more than twice as much as you have paid in premiums. This is made up of $5,580 in guaranteed cash value, and $7,940 in accumulated dividends.

(3) The dividends above are based on London Life's current dividend rate. While they are not guaranteed, the Company has had an outstanding record of dividend payments for over 50 years. For example, since 1951 the dividend rate has been increased seven times.

(4) When you're ready to retire, what other form of property offers you all these choices: at age 65 you can keep right on with your London Life insurance protection; you may stop paying premiums and take a paid-up policy for an adjusted amount; you may take the cash value, plus dividends that have built up—take it in a lump sum, as an income guaranteed for life or as an income for so many years. No other property is so versatile.

(5) With your first premium you create an immediate estate. If you die, the value of your London Life policy is greatly increased—worth much more than you have paid in premiums. Many other properties must be sacrificed when the owner dies.

(6) You can borrow from London Life on the cash value of your policy. Quickly and quietly. Just call the local London Life office or your representative. No credit check. And all the while your policy continues to protect your family.

(7) When you borrow from London Life, the interest rate is 6%—comparable with banks' regular lending rates and much lower than personal loan companies'.

(8) A London Life Jubilee policy is a good investment in other ways. It is just as safe as high-grade bonds and much safer than most common stocks. It is particularly attractive because while it earns you money it protects your family.

(9) Property values may rise or fall. But a London Life Jubilee policy grows with dividends and guaranteed values. Dividends are declared each year. Dividends allotted to owners of London Life profit-sharing policies for 1965 exceed $29 million.

(10) One reason London Life premiums are low is because Canadians, on the average, are long lived. Dividends to policyowners are high because, among other things, the London Life Insurance Company invests wisely and profitably. (In 1964, the Company earned 5.72% on its investments—after investment expenses.)

(11) No two men have the same insurance needs. That's why your London Life representative has been schooled to tailor insurance to fit your needs. He is trained to give you efficient service for many years to come.

Price Boosts Coming

Re-Tire, Save At Same Time

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

For anyone with worn-out tires now would look as good a time as any to make an investment in some new rubber. The price of automobiles and truck tires in Canada is expected to go up between seven and 20 per cent later this month.

Goodyear Tire and Rubber of Canada, generally the price-getter of the industry in this country, says it plans substantial advances in tire prices. An announcement will be made May 25.

An advance of one to three per cent was recently announced in the U.S. by Goodyear and Firestone.

"THIRTY FOLLY"

The new Canadian Development Corporation, as outlined by Finance Minister Gordon in his 1965 budget, is seen as an organization from which unsound business ventures will seek financing.

George Hees, a former cabinet minister and now president of the Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges, said in Vancouver Monday that the proposed corporation was sheer folly.

economic folly, and would prove political folly as well if it was established.

He called for its rejection by the Commons.

Mr. Hees said there are many existing ways in which sound business undertakings can be financed, either through private enterprise or through the government's industrial development bank.

PREMATURE FEARED

If a firm could not find financing in those channels it probably would have no chance of survival.

He feared it would be those with unimpressive prospects who would be drawn into the Canadian Development Corporation, backed by local political pressures.

Many of these companies, unable to make profits, would be a drag on the Canadian Development Corporation and it would be left to the profit-making crown corporations such as Polymer and Air Canada to keep the new corporation from going into the red.

Mr. Hees said that if the profits of these crown corporations were dissipated millions of dollars a year would be lost to the government's general revenue fund and would have to be replaced by increased taxation.

rights to buy 50 Western Decalita common at $4.75 each until June 1970, when the warrants become void. They are being offered at par.

SALES BOOM

Oshawa Wholesale net earnings for the 12 weeks ended April 17 were $320,165 (24.7 per cent), an increase of 35.69 per cent from the corresponding period of 1964 when the net earnings were $235,955 (20.49 per cent). Sales were up 27.44 per cent from a year ago, said R. Rolfe, president, in a letter to shareholders.

At Hospital

Real Thing

Beats Out

Fire Week

St. Joseph's hospital officials planned a "fire week" May 10 to 14, but fate intervened Friday to give the staff a realistic fire drill.

Monday the staff was to see the film Fire in Your Hospital; Tuesday slides, tape and a lecture on fire safety; Thursday a fire lecture and outside fire demonstration of evacuation carries.

But nurses got their evacuation test Friday morning at 8:31 when a cardboard box in the incubator of the nurse's residence produced a small chimney fire.

Off-duty nurses were awakened, and went smartly through their paces.

Evacuation procedures learned during extensive drilling in the hospital were completed by the time firemen arrived and found the cause of the smoke.

Or Taxes Will Rise

Colwood Needs Firemen

Colwood still needs more volunteer firemen and unless they are found soon, local ratepayers will suffer a tax increase next year.

C. H. Ridley, chairman of Colwood fire protection district's board of trustees, said Saturday an April campaign to recruit more volunteers turned up only five applications.

Specifically, the fire brigade requires several more day-time volunteers to handle an expected increase in brush or nuisance fires this summer.

The trustees were "disappointed" with the response, Mr. Ridley said, and felt residents were "apparently apathetic" about the needs of the brigade.

He warned unless volunteers were found, the trustees may have to hire two permanent day-time maintenance men to service the equipment and be available for fire calls.

The board will meet within the next two weeks to decide what action to take to "solve this urgent problem."

If the men are hired, Mr. Ridley said ratepayers will face a slight tax increase next year.

As the date of the 1965 Swiftsure draws nearer, yachters are still wondering who won in 1963. The 1963 winner won't be known until the Canadian Yachting Association rules on a protest by Lol Killam, of Vancouver.

If his protest is upheld, Winsome III, owned by Ches Rickard, Vancouver, will be the winner. Kenneth McLaren, honorary treasurer of Royal Victoria Yacht Club, says it usually takes about five years for a decision to be brought down. Meanwhile, preparations for this year's race, May 28, go on.

Students Disagree About Detention

Detentions! That was the question before the student body of Oak Bay Senior High School. The school publication, The Oakleaf, drew a mixed response in seeking reactions to after-school detention policy.

Answers ranged from: "I don't care. I don't get any," to "No, they're hard enough."

One student, tongue in cheek, felt much sterner correctional methods should be used. "Being a model student I cannot give an opinion based on experience. However from pure observation of the product of the detention room, I can only recommend sterner measures such as the use of garrotte, thumbcrew, the rack, water torture, or similar methods of disciplining naughty people," said Philip Linfield.

A number of students favored harder detentions. "Yes, like give the person about 2,000 math questions and let him go when they're correctly finished," said David Donnet. Again there might have been a tongue in cheek.

"Because I haven't any, they should be made to do something useful like picking up paper or made to do school work," said Edward Norman.

"Sure, because too many guys slack off because they aren't hard enough," Randy McEwen said.

The contrary was expressed by Robert Cullen and Morley McCaw.

"Ridiculous I think they should be abolished altogether," said Robert.

Morley expressed similar sentiments. "No and I don't like the system of 'late' detentions."

Festival Aftermath

Boys Steal Fezzes Shriners Tell Police

The Shriners headed back home Sunday, leaving Victoria pepped up—but none the worse for wear—in the wake of their Spring Festival last week.

The Shriners wound up their festival with a church parade at First United Church, and then left for homes throughout the northwest.

Spokesman declared that it was one of the best festivals ever.

Victoria got in a few licks of their own at the fun-loving Shriners, however.

At least three fezzes were taken by equally fun-loving youths at various locations early Sunday morning.

Two Shriners from Nanaimo and one from Spokane were the victims.

Police Hunt Fugitive

MONCTON, N.B. (UPI)—RCMP continued Monday to hunt for escaped convict Benjamin Pyburn, 35, who sawed through his Westmorland county jail cell Saturday and eluded a manna police search. Pyburn awaiting trial in connection with a $12,000 safe-cracking burglary of a suburban Riverview supermarket, compared to a swamp area where he shook off the RCMP tracking dog, Kirk.

Commented one city policeman, "We had more complaints FROM the Shriners than ABOUT the Shriners."

Worker Shortage Probed

Meetings are going on between the government and various sectors of the B.C. economy to find a solution to the shortage of skilled labor, Labor Minister Peterson said Monday.

He flatly rejected, however, the suggestion made last week by Opposition Leader Strachan that government and industry fix a priority for major construction projects to end the rising cost spiral.

Mr. Strachan said the shortage of skilled labor was forcing contractors to pad their bids on big projects so they could afford to pay overtime to attract skilled men.

Mr. Peterson said he "would not agree to confine construction in B.C. to projects like schools or hospitals."

"That might be all right for one year. But the next year there would be no industry or business to provide the tax base needed to keep our economy going."

SEVERAL SECTORS

There is a shortage of skilled labor in several sectors, he said, particularly the pulp and paper and forestry industries, but he could not accurately pinpoint the extent of the problem, runs "fairly high several hundred."

The government is anxious to attract more students to vocational schools and Mr. Peterson said courses dealing with several trades affected by the shortage have vacancies.

Loffmark

Separatism

Misrepresentation Not Misquotation

Trade and Industry Minister Loffmark, back in Victoria Monday, isn't crying misquote over the B.C. separatism statements attributed to him in Vancouver.

But he says, more in sorrow than in anger, that one mainland paper, The Sun, went "too far" in interpreting his remarks.

This is how Mr. Loffmark explained his exchange with reporters from three mainland dailies in the presence of several other people:

The group started talking about separatism in Quebec.

New Restrictions Limit Land Use West of Victoria

The government has established controls on land use in Langford-Colwood-Metchosin.

New regulations, published in the B.C. Gazette, prohibit establishment of new operations ranging from junk yards and animal shelters to junk yards and garbage dumps.

NON-ACCEPTABLE

The list of non-acceptable uses: pigeries, mushroom farms, milk farms, dog breeding and boarding kennels, animal shelters and animal hospitals, junk yards and auto wreckers, garbage dumps and salvage yards.

Existing operations, such as the Good Shepherd Animal Shelter operated by Mother Cecilia Mary, will be permitted to remain as a non-conforming use.

BOARD OF APPEAL

Anyone wishing to establish one of the prohibited uses can go to the zoning board of appeal which in turn will call a public hearing of residents in the area.

Any appeal from the board's ruling can be taken to County Court.

A spokesman for the municipal affairs department said yesterday that the new regulations are intended to bridge the gap until a full zoning plan for the area is completed by the Capital Region Planning Board.

We give you less for your money.

When you buy a new Johnson 9½, you get less. Less weight, less height, less bulk, less trouble, less appetite for fuel. As fishing motors go it's very small. Just 34 inches high. They call it the compact's compact. The 9½ is nothing to carry because the balance is perfect like a good gun. And easy to store because both sides are free of the usual levers and protrusions that get in the way. Instead all the controls are up front to make less work of driving.

What's more the 9½ is a stingy outboard. It trolls all day on a tank of regular gas. And with 60:1 gas-oil mix, oil costs are cut in half. Another thing the 9½ gives you less of is noise and trouble. Like all Johnson's you can take its quietness and dependability for granted. Johnson even puts it in writing with an extra long two year warranty.

As you can see, the 9½ offers less of just about everything. Especially the things you don't need. The only thing it offers more of than anyone else is value.

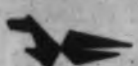

See the amazing Balthus 9½ for yourself. It's at your Johnson Dealer's now.

McNeill on Coquitlam:

'They Play It Rough'

The newest team in the Inter-City Lacrosse League—Coquitlam Adanacs—have shown that they aren't afraid to take penalties, and plenty of them, in their first two games of the season.

So, coach Jim McNeill of Victoria Shamrocks will have the odd-man play ready for Coquitlam when the Adanacs invade Memorial Arena Wednesday at 8 p.m.

"According to reports by goal-keeper Skip Chapman who saw Coquitlam play New Westminster O'Keefe's twice last week, the Adanacs like to play it fast and rough," McNeill said Monday night.

"Well if that's the case come Wednesday, we'll be ready for them with five players who know what to do on the odd-man play."

At practice Sunday, McNeill had Terry Davis directing the power play, with Bill Munroe and Larry Clarkson doing most of the shooting from the penalty circle, with Bill Gray and Ed Kowalyk inside by the goal.

NOT START

Wednesday, Ron Jay will replace Clarkson in the odd-man lineup that McNeill thinks will pay dividends. Jay has been in to a hot start, with five goals in three games.

"Davis can move the opposition's front men around pretty good with all his fakes, and that should allow both Munroe and Jay to have plenty of good shots," said McNeill.

SPEED FIRE

Although Coquitlam lost both its games to New Westminster last week, 12-11 and 8-4, they showed plenty of speed and aggressiveness according to Chapman.

Playing-coach Gordie Gimpie, formerly with Vancouver Carlinga, has yet to dress as a player because he wants a first-hand look at just what talent Coquitlam has in its first year.

THE BEST

The rest of the team consists of senior "B" players and over-age juniors from the Inter-City Junior League.

Victoria is still awaiting word from Toronto as to whether all-star defenceman Barry Ashbee will arrive in time for the game.

Victoria Stays In Pro Hockey But Likely with New Coach

By JIM TANG
Colonist Sports Editor

SEATTLE—Victoria Maple Leafs will be back in Memorial Arena next season as one of the six clubs in an unchanged Western Hockey League lineup.

They will again be under the front-office direction of Buck Houle, they'll play at least two-thirds of their home games Saturday nights, all but one or two of the rest on Wednesday nights, they'll probably have six American Hockey League clubs as home ice opponents and they'll likely have a new coach.

That much was determined here Monday in an annual WHL meeting which must have set some sort of a league record for the dispatch with which everything was decided.

That Victoria would remain in the WHL under the sponsorship of the Toronto Maple Leafs was really no surprise, having long since been announced as all but fact. But what was a pleasant development was the acceptance rather than the sufferance of the Victoria entry.

BIG DRAW

Figures that showed that the Maple Leafs ranked only behind the Portland Buckaroos as a road attraction appeared to have dissipated any fears among other league cities. And Toronto Maple Leafs expressed themselves through club president Stafford Smythe as more than pleased with Victoria as a farm club.

Smythe, heading a Toronto delegation which also included executive vice-president Harold Ballard, manager-coach Punch Imlach and assistant manager-coach Frank (King) Clancy, had nothing but praise for Victoria support for the Toronto-owned WHL franchise.

'WE'RE STAYING'

"I told them," Smythe said, referring to the other WHL clubs, "that we're staying in Victoria with or without any subsidy. We were happy with the support that we got in Victoria and I think that now our association with Victoria could become permanent."

"We took in about $30,000 more in Victoria than we did the season before in Denver and we didn't have as good a hockey team. In view of this, we consider we had a fine season. It's up to us to give the fans a good hockey club. If we don't, it's our fault, not theirs, if the fans don't come out."

NOBLE BACK

Smythe said that Houle would return as general manager, but it appeared that the two best guesses on who would be the next coach would be Alan Stanley and Bob Armstrong, a one-time NHL defenceman star with Boston Bruins.

If Stanley were to be the choice, he would be a playing coach. Armstrong, who retired two years ago and highly regarded in professional hockey circles, would be a bench coach.

"The Toronto organization," Smythe said, "feels that coaching opportunities should be made available to veteran players and we propose to do something about it by offering the opportunities along with recompense to make it worthwhile."

PERHAPS PIOUS

This by no means rules out the possibility that Rudy Pious could be back for a second Victoria season.

"We'd like to have him back, but we really couldn't try to force him to come back if he prefers to be closer to home," Smythe explained. "In my opinion, he should be in the National Hockey League, and I can't understand why some clubs have not taken him. If he doesn't come back to Victoria we'd have to think about a playing coach."

Smythe mentioned Stanley, 35-year-old veteran Toronto defenceman, as a possibility in this regard. L. A. C. Armstrong's name was tossed into what has to remain a guessing game until at least next month's NHL meetings.

AHL Clubs Play Here

SEATTLE (Staff)—Biggest development in the first day of the Western Hockey League meeting from the league standpoint came with the probability of a partially-interlocking schedule with the American Turned down last season, by the AHL, the plan became all but reality yesterday when AHL president Jack Riley attended the WHL meeting to sound out the current feeling.

He found the WHL agreeable and will now discuss the matter with his club owners. Announcement of the AHL decision is expected during the NHL meeting and Riley believes it will be accepted, although there will be some discussion on how many inter-locking games will be played.

MIX AND MIX

Under present plans, which seem certain of adoption, each WHL club would play six home games and six away games against clubs from the nine-

This would increase the WHL schedule from 70 games to 72, same as played in the AHL, with WHL clubs playing a balanced schedule against each other—six home and six away games against each of their five opponents.

Behind this move is the reasonable assurance of a continent-wide television contract by the 1966-67 season and the thought of WHL and AHL owners that they will have to institute major-league expansion themselves.

The AHL cities are Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Springfield, Mass., Buffalo, Rochester, N.Y., Hershey, Pa., Providence, R.I., and Quebec City.

FULL SUPPORT

The plan drew full support from Smythe, one NHL executive who is a firm believer in expansion.

"I think it is a great thing," he said. "If the minor leagues can do it the NHL will have to sit up and take notice."

Extra travelling costs for the inter-locking schedule would probably amount to $4,000 per club.

"That's not too much," said the pleasant AHL president, "when you consider that it will give all 15 clubs a more attractive schedule and there is a chance of a television tie-up that would bring each as much as $300,000."

In other business, WHL gave San Diego, which had been granted a franchise at a last meeting, an extension of a year. San Diego will join the league if a suitable arena is ready by Oct. 1, 1966.

Bob Breitbard assured that it would be. He said financing has been arranged and that a start would be made on a 13,000-seat arena by July 15 this year.

It was also announced that the WHL schedule would start Oct. 15, a week later than last season, and end either April 3 or 10, depending on arrangements for the inter-locking schedule with the AHL.

Limping Mantle Still Hits But Yankees Slip Lower

New York's once-powerful Yankees slipped even further into oblivion in the American League Monday despite the presence of a limping Mickey Mantle in their lineup.

The Yankees dropped into unimpressive possession of ninth place when Boston Red Sox gained a 3-2 victory on Carl Yastrzemski's second home run of the game in the eighth inning off lower Bill Stafford.

New York was in the game all the way thanks to Mantle, who hit an RBI single in the fourth inning and unloaded his fifth home run of the season in the seventh. Mantle also doubled with two out in the eighth despite a double muscle pull in the right leg.

At the other end of the American League, where New York usually occupies first place, Minnesota Twins took over the league lead with a 4-3 victory over Chicago White Sox. The win gave the Twins a half-game lead over both Chicago and the Los Angeles Angels.

In the National League, Ron Fairly's two-out single in the 10th inning drove in Lou Johnson with the winning run as Los Angeles Dodgers edged Houston Astros, 3-2.

The Dodgers, despite the loss of Davis, are leading the National League by a comfortable 2 1/2 games over Cincinnati Reds, with the Astros three games out of first.

Sunday, two Robinsons, not related, starred in victories in both the American and National Leagues despite injury problems.

Brooks Robinson, batting with a broken right thumb that will keep him out of the regular lineup for about 10 days, slapped a pinch-single in the 12th inning and went on to score the winning run as Baltimore Orioles edged Detroit Tigers, 3-4.

Frank Robinson, at bat with a badly injured left thumb, rapped

a single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning to plate two runs and give Cincinnati Reds a 3-1 win over Pittsburgh Pirates.

Fourth game of the series will be played Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. The fifth will be played Friday.

From Huck, Ross Perkins, defenceman Jim Cardiff, Rogers and Red Simpson shared the Oil Kings' scoring. Sanderson replaced for the Flyers.

Despite the early finish, the game took almost three hours to complete as play was held up repeatedly when fans threw debris, including eggs, on the ice.

Verdict Today On 'Jumpers'

The Inter-City Lacrosse League plans to take action today or tomorrow—against registered players who "jump" their contracts in favor of playing in the "outlaw" Quebec National Lacrosse League.

President Tommy Gordon said Monday night at the ICLL's monthly meeting in Burnaby that he would make an announcement later today after contacting the president of the Canadian Lacrosse Association, Carl Madgett of Brampton, Ont. "This is a serious situation that needs to be dealt with as soon as possible," said Gordon. He did not indicate what action is to be taken.

Two members of the Victoria Shamrocks (Ray Beech and John Hansen) left for Montreal last week to join Sorel in a senior "B" league.

Dillons Dominate Junior Lacrosse

Two Dillons (Ranjit and Nirmal) and a Dillon (Tej) had a field day Monday night as Victoria Shamrocks downed South Vancouver Legion, 17-8, in an Inter-City Junior Lacrosse contest at Memorial Arena.

Ranjit scored five goals and assisted on four others while Nirmal scored once and had three assists. To make the game complete, Tej scored two goals in the rout.

John Stewart, Ken Alexander and Ron Zillis added to the list with two goals each, while Tom Black, Pat Green and Tom Churchill scored one goal apiece for the winners.

Terry Sigmund and Danny DesLaurier scored three goals each for Vancouver. Tais D'Andrea and Ralph Jensen added the other goals for the losers.

Sunday at Vancouver, goal-keeper Doug Thompson of the Shamrocks recorded a rare shut-out as Victoria blanked the Legion 15-0. Thompson made 19 stops, several on the spectacular side.

Alexander spearheaded the Victoria attack with five goals, while Ranjit Dillon had one goal and five assists.

Nirmal Dillon, Green and Churchill scored two goals each, with Brent Atkins, Don McNeill and Tej Dillon adding one goal apiece.

The game was the opening of a summer tour by the two English first division clubs.

Sheffield scored on three defensive lapses in the first half but Blackpool managed to pull into a 3-2 halftime score.

The tying goal was scored only four minutes left in the game.

The clubs put on a fine display of cool, calculated soccer for the 12,383 fans and on goal-scoring chances, Blackpool should have won the game with ease.

GREAT CHANCES

In the opening half, their forwards three times hit the woodwork with Sheffield's international goal keeper Alan Hodgkinson beaten and Blackpool's international centre-forward Ray Charney amazed everyone when he missed a completely empty goal.

But it was Charney who eventually scored the tying goal for Blackpool four minutes before the end.

Alan Birchall in the 13th minute, Alan Woodward in the 23rd minute and John Docherty in the 29th minute opened the scoring for Sheffield. Then came the Blackpool efforts. The first was a solo try by winger Des Horne in the 33rd minute with Jimmy Robson hitting the second in the 37th minute before Charney completed the scoring in the 80th minute.

NEW ZEALAND BOUND

Outstanding for Sheffield were defenders Hodgkinson, Graham Shaw, Cecil Caldwell and Joe Shaw with Horne, Glyn James, Ian Moir and Les Lea starring for Blackpool.

The teams move on to New Zealand to complete their seven-game tour.

Bout Here In Arena

Vancouver Island professional fight fans will be able to view the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight May 25.

Promoter Al Principe of Vancouver announced Monday that the fight will be shown via teleprompter at Memorial Arena on a closed circuit basis from the scene of the match—Lewiston, Maine.

This will be the only location for Island fans to watch the fight, as there is to be no home television here of the once-postponed match. Mainland fight fans with cablevision, will be the only ones with home television of the fight.

Principe said that tickets for the closed-circuit fight are now on sale at Memorial Arena, ranging from $4 to $8. Up-Island fight fans may wire or write for tickets to Memorial Arena, Victoria.

LEWISTON, Me. (AP)—Backers of the transplanted Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight May 25 figure they have converted the Boston ban into a bonanza.

From Gov. John H. Reed on down, leading public figures and businessmen welcome the world championship event with open arms. Some other citizens still can't figure how the community of 41,000 suddenly is a focal point of the sports world.

It happened of course when legal entanglements and an effort to have the bout banned in Boston left Inter-Continental Promotions, Inc. and Sportsvision, which handles the closed circuit television rights, too little time. They could afford no more uncertainties.

So they decided between Bangor and Lewiston, settling on the latter which is closer to Boston, 140 miles to the south. The site, instead of Boston Garden with its 13,900 capacity, is the Lewiston Youth Centre where fire laws restrict seating to 3,000, but efforts are being made to expand it to slightly over 5,000.

One Inter-Continental spokesman says District Attorney Garrett Byrne in Boston, who sought an injunction banning the fight, "may have done us a big favor. It looks as though we'll do better financially here than in Boston."

The spokesman said the rent of the building is $225,000 less than in Boston and the taxes $115,000 lower. Tickets with a $50 tap were scaled for a $500,000 house in Boston and with a $300 tap for about $330,000 here.

"With the fight out of Boston we open up another big city for the closed circuit TV, and that's where we'll make our money," the spokesman said.

Mrs. Cumberland: 'Our view will be ruined.'

Save-Our-Swamp

Prompt Action Essential To Preserve Rithet Land

Act now, before it's too late. This ominous warning has been given to Saanich council and any other group or individual interested in preserving the 97-acre Rithet lowland by Saanich's Save-Our-Swamp committee.

The SOS group wants the low-land and surrounding hillside preserved as a natural wilderness park and fears it will be lost forever to urban sprawl if speedy action is not taken.

OFFER TURNED DOWN

Council offered to buy the lowland for $15,000, $35,000 below the asking price, and was turned down.

Now the matter is in abeyance again—the committee has offered to help raise funds to purchase the property but council has not decided what further action to take.

Committee secretary Mrs. S. L. Cumberland, 874 Royal Oak, fears a proposed subdivision on the property surrounding the lowland will eventually destroy the swamp, and adds:

NO COMPENSATION

"I don't believe there could be any kind of monetary compensation that would be acceptable to any of us (on Royal Oak) in exchange for ruining our beautiful view," Mrs. Cumberland said Saturday.

Support for acquiring the lowland has come from Saanich Coun. Gregory Cook who predicts without speedy action, the "value of this bog will disappear as it will be uneconomical to leave it as it is and progress will take its ugly toll."

Coun. Cook suggested the only guarantee of preserving the lowland is through municipal ownership.

HMCS Oriole Thuds onto Mudbank

Navigation the Hard Way

It was enough to make a seasoned salt sob with shame. At 4:15 p.m. Monday, the 91-foot navy training vessel, HMCS Oriole—bound on a five-day navigational cruise—ran hard aground under power on a mud-bank in Shoal Harbor, near Sidney.

There she sat for two hours and 20 minutes while a cluster of Sunday sailors and two commercial fishing trollers tugged and heaved to free her.

But she wouldn't budge. Her crew—newly-appointed skipper Lt.-Cmdr. James Butterfield, 11 University Naval Training Division acting sub-lieutenants and 10 RCN ratings—tried everything in the books to get their balky vessel free.

En masse, they ran from port to starboard to try to tilt the 100-ton Oriole, while lines attached to the trollers stretched taut.

The Oriole sat tight like a hen on its eggs.

The trollers—operated by Leo Mattson, 28, of Ocean Falls, and Bill Egeland of Sidney—had a combined pulling strength of 280 horsepower.

Finally, at 6:35 p.m., they pulled her free, her 14,650 square feet of sail still furled.

Horns tooted, a ragged cheer went up from the RCN side, and the little armada of rescue ships sailed off for home—their mission completed.

In the rays of the setting sun, the faces of the Oriole's crew glowed red as they headed for the open sea.

They were, after all, on a navigational training cruise. The Oriole had left Naden earlier in the day, carrying its complement of UNTD officers in their third year of naval summer training.

Their course was pilotage. As they moved into Shoal Harbor, the crew was taking soundings. Then the soundings stopped—and so did the Oriole.

Said one navy man: "We wanted to see how far up the channel we could go." They did.

But, as the Oriole and its 23 crewmen discovered, you can't go very far up the channel. If you do, it pays to have the latest charts.

They show the new channel dredged straight last year by the department of transport.

Long-Range Plan Rejected

School Board Loses Building Program Bid

A Greater Victoria school board request for a long-range building program has been rejected by the education department.

School trustee Peter Burn said some kindergarten classes will be cut for the next term due to a shortage of classrooms.

Secretary-treasurer T. L. Christie had informed the education department that the board felt the current three-year construction projections were inadequate for a metropolitan school district of this size.

"It has been our experience that as soon as new classrooms are completed an unexpected overflow of pupils is encountered, and the board is forced into temporary overflow accommodation, to the detriment and chagrin of teachers, pupils and parents," his letter said.

Refusing the request, deputy education minister Dr. J. F. K. English said the established school building policy was based on a three-year construction period after attempts with a five-year building policy failed.

'Projected Far Beyond'

"All foresighted school boards in the province project their population needs far beyond this point in order to determine whether the buildings in the three-year program will have to be expanded in the future to meet local accommodation requirements," Dr. English said.

"When we operated in a five-year building policy, the local projections beyond the three-year period were so inaccurate the department spent a great amount of time preparing orders-in-council to permit boards to vary their referrals to meet actual building needs.

"For this reason, it is considered to be unrealistic at the present time to re-establish the five-year program."

Trustee Burn, buildings and grounds committee chairman, said the board wanted a five-year building program and not a five-year projection program.

"We have planned for the next 20 years," he said.

"Some boards were inaccurate in the past, but over the past few years, projections of our own board—the second-largest in the province—have been pretty accurate."

Tomorrow—Not Yesterday

"We shouldn't be in a state where we are building for yesterday's needs—we should be building for tomorrow's needs," according to Mr. Burn.

He pointed to construction of Braefoot school which will replace Cedar Hill School.

"Ultimately this will be a 12-room school and has been designed as such."

"But we are only building three piddly little rooms and an administrative centre—which will be filled in September," he said.

Mr. Burn said some kindergarten classes had to be cut in order to prevent adopting the shift system in elementary schools.

He felt the board was not keeping faith with the voters.

"It is better to have non-shift than kindergarten if we have to make a choice."

"But I think with a more realistic approach by the education department, we could have both non-shift and kindergarten classes," he said.

Rev. Dr. James Dickson, missionary-principal of Taipei Theological College, will speak on Formosa in St. Andrew's Kirk Hall at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Dr. Dickson, a missionary in Formosa for 28 years, will illustrate his talk with films.

View Royal School principal Irvine Dawson said he had advised parents to take their children to the intersection, make sure they know how to operate the signal and wait until the "Walk" sign went on.

Trustee Tilts At 'Pinball' Traffic Light

A Greater Victoria school trustee is concerned about a traffic signal described as "a pinball machine" or "Christmas tree."

Trustee E. J. Wood suggested an overpass be built at the intersection of Island Highway and Helmcken Road.

He described a traffic signal recently installed at the intersection as "stupid."

"The light flashes green on and off, a child pushes the button, it changes to flashing amber, then solid amber, then flashing red, and finally solid red."

"It looks like a Christmas tree or a pinball machine," he said. "And the poor Grade 1, 2 or 3 students are all mixed up."

Mr. Wood felt an ordinary traffic signal "as in town, where you push the button and it turns from green to amber to red" would be an improvement.

"Even a sign warning motorists travelling at 50 miles an hour of the school crosswalk would be better."

"An overpass would be the answer," he said.

View Royal School principal Irvine Dawson said he had advised parents to take their children to the intersection, make sure they know how to operate the signal and wait until the "Walk" sign went on.

Mill Rate Increased To 40.76

Central Saanich 1965 mill rate was set at 40.76 when this year's budget was approved at a special council meeting Monday night.

This is an increase of 3.26 mills over last year, according to Reeve R. Gordon Lee.

Proposed expenditure for 1965 is $267,004, with total revenue estimated at $133,638, leaving a total of $233,914 to be raised through taxation.

Expenditure breakdown: Schools, $173,132; debt service, $1,548.48; and general purpose, $108,213.72.

Mill rate breakdown was: schools, 24.41; debt, 23; general, 14.12.

Wildcat Strike Idles 800 At Sawmill

Pickets continued to pace in front of the gates to Victoria's B.C. Forest Products sawmill early this morning as a wildcat strike of two shifts moved into its second day.

The strikers, members of Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, refused to work at midnight Sunday and formed their picket line.

Eight hundred men are affected by the action, including 400 from the company's nearby plywood mill, which operates on steam from the sawmill.

Spokesmen for the men said they refused to work because the company would not provide a full-time first aid man on an enlarged graveyard shift in the mill.

The strike was called illegal by a company statement early Monday.

Al Carle, chairman of the sawmill plant committee said Monday night his group is ready to negotiate at any time.

ONE MAN TRAINED The strikers agree that one of the 13 shift workers is a trained first-aid man, but they want a full-time man on the job.

"The men want a full-time first-aid man, cleaned up and ready to dress their wounds if they receive any," said Mr. Carle.

TRIED TO NEGOTIATE "We tried earlier to negotiate this with the company but they said we could heat our guns for an hour and they wouldn't listen," he said.

"The mill manager asked us what we wanted and we told him right here what it is. We feel he's got the ball, and I'm sure he knows it," added Mr. Carle.

NOT APPROACHED Mill manager Herbert Barnes said Monday night he had not been approached by the men since they formed the picket line, as yet unopposed by other workers, and he did not expect any overnight change in the situation.

Questioned about the company claim that the strike is illegal, Mr. Carle commented "The company knows the law and knows what it can do about getting an injunction. That's all there is to it."

Saanich Man Hurt in Fall Alexander McKay, 73, was reported in "fairly good" condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital Monday after he fell 15 feet onto cement at his home at 185 Bedford. He was removing an awning.

New Rule Old Hat To Sailing Skippers

Politeness comes naturally to Victoria sailboat skippers.

They are more than half a century ahead of a switch ordered Monday in an age-old traffic rule of the sea.

The seaman's rule that power must give way to sail has been altered to give steamships the right-of-way in congested waters.

CONGESTED WATERS The United Nations Inter-governmental Maritime Consultative Organization's new collision rule has been accepted here for years.

"It has long been fairly obvious that a big ship cannot always safely change course in congested waters," said Frank Piddington, commodore of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

He added that the ruling just makes legal a common-sense rule in effect "since we first had big ships."

Former department of transport district marine agent Lt.-Col. Keith Dixon saw it much the same way.

"I wouldn't care to comment, except to say that it is factually correct that a big ship in congested waters does have a more difficult time than a small sailboat to manoeuvre," he said.

Ladies' Night Oak Bay United Church's Men's Club will hold its annual ladies' night at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Holyrood House.

Summery Weather May Stay

Break out the shorts—better weather may be here to stay.

With summer moving in, Victoria weatherman William Mackie says local residents can expect a general upswing in temperatures and overall weather conditions.

The bright, sunny weather of Sunday and Monday is expected to be replaced by cloudy skies today and Wednesday but temperatures will still climb to the normal 60 level.

A weakening storm is causing overcast skies and rain on the northern half of the island but most of the south is enjoying pleasant weather.

The storm is moving slowly south but is expected to cause only cloudiness in Victoria.

Mr. Mackie is predicting a high of 58 to 63 today with an overnight low tonight of 43 to 48. Winds will be 15 to 20 miles an hour from the west.

Playhouse Noon Shows To Run Through Summer

McPherson Playhouse noon concerts—still in the experimental stage—will continue through the summer months, producer Kenneth Gravenor said Monday.

The concerts are held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, but "if conditions warrant" they might run Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, instead.

Meanwhile, Mr. Gravenor is having piano troubles.

The Playhouse has no piano, so Mr. Gravenor borrows one from Estons.

However, there is not enough room at the McPherson to store the piano backstage when another production is on stage.

Every time a grand piano is moved out of the Playhouse, it has to be returned before it can be used again.

"This is very costly."

There is enough room backstage to store an upright piano, but few concert pianists will use one.

"But it is better to hear a good pianist play on a good upright than not to hear one at all."

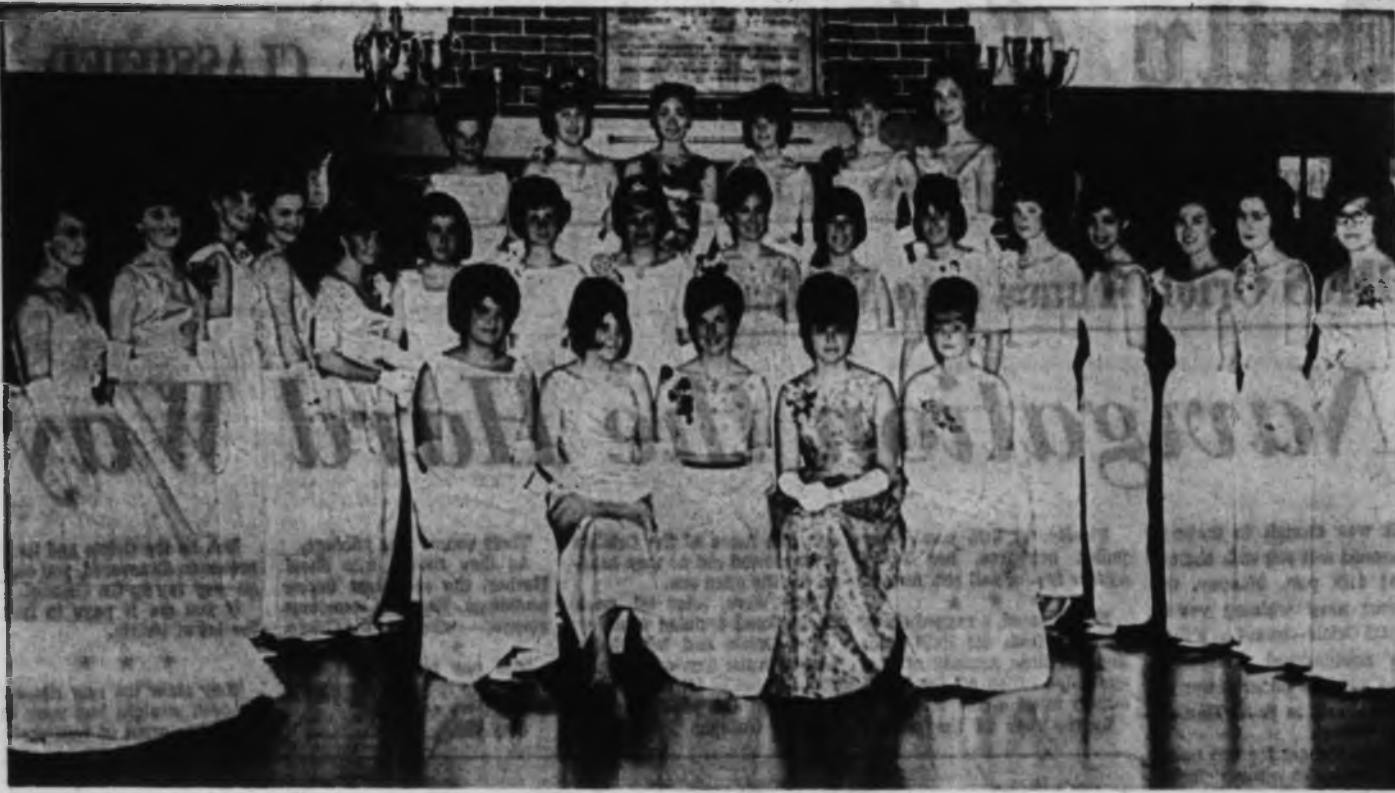

"My problem now is finding one who will break this taboo, and play an upright."

1,000,000 Aristocrats About to Lose Their Heads

Mr. Houlihan's a millionaire—in bulbs, that is. A bulb farmer, J. W. Houlihan has 1,000,000 aristocrat tulips growing row on row at his Gordon Head farm. Soon they will lose their heads, to permit forcing out. Without heads, food and energy collected by the leaves go to the bulb, making it a marketable product. —(Bud Kinsman)

Trip to Penticton For Newlyweds

Baskets of salmon pink gladioli and white chrysanthemums were at the altar of St. John's Anglican Church, Friday evening, when Canon George Biddle heard marriage vows exchanged between Norma May Askey and John H. Szevics.

Organist Kenneth Ansdell played "The Wedding March" during the ceremony.

Parents of the principals are Mrs. Doris Askey, 741 Laverdier Avenue, and Mrs. M. Szevics, Pompano, Hungary, and the late Mr. Szevics.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Leonard Fieldhouse, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of white nylon over satin, styled with hooped skirt caught in a bustle effect at the back waistline by small self-fabric rosebuds. The fitted bodice was studded with seed pearls and featured a scoop neckline and sleeves ending in lily points. Her four-tier veil misted to shoulder-length from a rhinestone and pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley and apple blossoms.

Mrs. K. Jacobs was matron of honor for her sister in a sheath-style gown of turquoise peau de sole, topped with a toning lace jacket. Bridesmaids, the Misses Linda Askey, and Sandra Askey, the bride's cousins, and Judith Chapman wore similar outfits. All wore hats of turquoise tulle, trimmed with pink roses and edged with turquoise veils. Pink and white carnations were in their bouquets.

Flower girl, Karen Redfern, wore a turquoise frock of peau de sole, topped with an overlay of white lace. Her headpiece was a bandeau of pink rosebuds and she carried a basket of pink and white carnations.

Best man was Lano Bohn. Ushering guests were John Askey, the bride's cousin, and Norman Fieldhouse and Bernard Leavitt.

Miniature figures of a bride and groom topped the three-tier wedding cake, made by the groom, which centred the bride's table at the reception which followed in the Olds England Inn. Silver candelabra completed table decorations. Bernie Cox proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling on a honeymoon trip to Penticton, B.C., the bride donned a pink wool suit, complemented by a white velvet hat, white accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage.

The couple will make their home at 2063 Delatre Street.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am in love with a 21-year-old who has done something terrible. I am so ashamed of him I am sick at heart.

Last night Phil told me he was called up by the draft board and had to fill out a form. On the form he stated he was a homosexual. I asked why in the world he told such a lie and he replied, "Because I don't want to go into the army, that's why."

We talked for a long time and Phil said, "There are enough bums and loafers around who would rather go into the army than work. I don't see why the government has to pull men away from good jobs when they don't want to go."

If a man says he is homosexual he is excused from the army? If it's true, then anyone who doesn't want to serve could use homosexuality as an excuse. Please tell me what the outcome of this horrible thing will be—OUTA MY SKULL.

Dear Ann: Phil will be called in for a psychiatric examination and asked for a letter of verification from his physician. Then he will be questioned by a psychiatrist who will determine from his answers that he is lying.

Phil could be charged with fraud, which might mean some time in the cooler—or he could be inducted promptly. The draft board will decide.

Clubs

Dear Ann Landers: In September I married a man who lost his wife six years ago. We get along well together and our marriage is just about perfect. There's only one serious flaw.

My husband's daughter, Janice, who is married and has two small children, lives ten minutes away. She refuses to get foot inside our home. Janice says she can't bear to come here because there are too many memories. She grew up in this house and was married in the living room.

My husband and I must go to her home if we wish to see her and the family.

I have begged her to make the effort but she says she can't. Her father is the type who never lets his unhappiness show, but I know he is hurt. Any suggestions?—IMPASSE

Dear Impasse: Continue to visit Janice in her home and stop begging her to come to yours. Make it clear that she is welcome anytime but that you will not ask her again. I'm betting when you no longer let the hurt show she'll change her attitude.

Dear Ann Landers: Lester (not his real name) and I were supposed to be going steady. I wanted to test my love for him so I accepted a date on the sneak with Bruce (not his real name).

Somehow Lester heard I was out with Bruce and he took his father's car and went looking for me. The police picked him up for running a red light. Also he has no driver's licence because he is underage. This is the second time Lester has been picked up so now he's in big trouble, not only with the police but with his folks.

Lester's mother telephoned me and said it was all my fault because if I hadn't two-timed her son he would not be in this mess. What do you think?—BLAMED

Dear Blamed: I think it's terrible that a kid who isn't even old enough to get a driver's licence is so tangled up with a girl that he goes looking for her when he hears she is out with someone else.

PERSONAL MENTION

By Dorothy Wrotnowski

A play therapy room for hospitalized children sounds like a good idea. But if you have any doubts, Mrs. Anthony Bristowe, who is handling publicity for a newly-formed organization, will soon have you as enthused as herself about the project.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. George Pearkes called at the St. Joseph's Hospital to informally officiate at the opening of the new room in the children's ward.

Children in hospital aren't very happy, generally speaking. Parents come to visit them and then go away. Little pals beside them go away for treatment and come back looking a bit pale. Loneliness and homesickness play a part too.

And doctors know that a sad child does not get well as fast as a happy or contented one.

A few months ago, doctors put across the idea to a small group of public spirited women and now the play therapy room at the hospital is reality.

The group, St. Joseph's Hospital Children's Association, are all voluntary workers. And the association has been privately subscribed.

The room will be open from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. daily and it will be a place for fun.

There are TV sets, all sorts of toys, small tables and chairs, all contributed.

The group will also provide material for parents to handle children while they are visiting. There will also be projects ready for the child who is confined to bed.

After the opening yesterday, the group entertained at tea for Mrs. Pearkes in the lounge of the Nurses home.

The tea table was centred with a lovely arrangement of pink tulips and lighted pink candles, matching the color of the workers' nylon uniforms.

Mrs. E. E. Adams and Miss Elizabeth Walther, supervisor of the pediatric ward, poured tea.

Entertainment was provided by George Fawcett at the piano and wife, Rosemary singing.

Mrs. R. Hood and Mrs. I. Douglas convened the tea.

Mrs. H. G. Ingram heads the small voluntary group. Mrs. E. L. Moody is secretary.

Mrs. Chris Wiggins, purchasing and Mrs. H. Jack, attendant director.

Other members of the group are Mrs. E. B. Auld, Mrs. Edward Prevost, Mrs. B. E. Cragg, Mrs. J. Duxbury, Mrs. A. G. Gillespie, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. A. B. Allen, Mrs. Donald Gordon, Mrs. Donald Carter, Mrs. H. Pope and Mrs. F. G. Milligan.

Going to Charlottetown

Christie Harris and husband Tommy are leaving tomorrow after spending the winter here while Christie was writing her latest book, Raven's Cry. This book has only just gone to the publisher so it will be about a year before it comes on the market.

Wilson Duff, Provincial Archivist thinks Raven's Cry is a great book and he calls it a classic study of the effect of the arrival of the white man on Indian life.

He also describes Christie as a ball of fire and fun to work with.

The Harris' are going to Vancouver and then to Sechart to visit son, Brian and his family before leaving for the East.

Enroute Christie's publisher, McClelland and Stewart have arranged for stops in major cities where TV and radio appearances will be the order of the day. West with the Great White Chiefs is Christie's latest book published this spring.

In Charlottetown, P.E.I., Christie will gather material for another book about her second daughter, Mrs. J. M. Simpson.

Trio of Attendants For Miss Jackson

A trio of attendants preceded Miss Marilyn Jackson down the aisle of St. Christopher's Anglican Church when she became the bride of Randall Maurice Lach.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jackson, Judith Street, and was given in marriage by her father. The groom's parents are Lt.-Col. and Mrs. M. M. Locke, Darwin Road.

Canon R. Willis officiated at the evening ceremony.

Her floor-length gown was of French lace and egg shell pou de soie. The subtle neckline was enhanced by a train of pique and the controlled skirt was accented with a bridal bow at the back. A crystal tiara held her softly flared veil of silk illusion net.

Matron of honor, Mrs. G. Jeffries, wore a long-sleeved gown of pink tulle. Bridesmaid Miss Dian Watson was in turquoise sateen, and the groom's sister, Miss Jennifer Locke, in turquoise silk with a long-sleeved lace top. Linda Jackson was her sister's flower girl, and wore a pink dress with long-sleeved lace top.

The attendants carried pink carnations, except the flower girl who carried a basket of pink daisies.

Mr. Trevor Locke of Kamloops was best man for his brother and ushers were Mr. Robert Simpson, Mr. Richard Jeffries, Mr. Grant Beardsaw and Mr. Gordon Dirksen.

A reception was held at the Club Soho, and later the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in Nanaimo. For travelling the bride wore a blue knitted suit with matching hat and gloves, black purse and shoes.

On their return the newlyweds plan to live at Apartment B, 2627 Cedar Hill Road.

Guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. L. Locke, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cooke, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. E. Cox, West Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. Simpson, Wellington, B.C.

Wedding Trip to California

New on a wedding trip to California are Mr. and Mrs. Alan Courtney Gustus, who were married recently in St. John's Anglican Church.

The bride is the former Valerie Kathleen Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Parker, Garden Street. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gustus, Asquith Street.

Canon George Biddle officiated at the evening ceremony, at which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding she chose a white floor-length gown with a lavishly full skirt extending into a full Watteau train. The fitted bodice of Alencon lace was styled with a jewel neckline and high-point sleeves. A crown of crystals and rhinestones held her many-tiered veil of illusion net, and she carried a colonial bouquet of lily-of-the-valley with white orchids.

As maid of honor, the groom's sister, Miss Rita Gustus, wore a floor-length gown of blue crystal charm. Her head-piece was pink chiffon with roses and tulle, and she carried a crescent bouquet of pink gladiolus.

Bridesmaids Miss Virginia McDowell and Miss Gail Wall wore similar gowns with head-pieces of blue crystal charm, roses and tulle. They carried crescent bouquets of yellow gladiolus.

Little flower girl, Miss Sharon

Laurel, wore a full-length dress of blue sheer nylon over tulle. Her head-piece was a matching tulle-covered bow, and she carried a basket of small spring flowers.

Mr. Rodney Gustus was best man and ushers were Mr. Thomas Parker and Mr. Barry McLeish. At a reception at Holyrood House, the bride's table was centred with a blue and white wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Allan.

As the couple left later on their wedding trip, the bride wore a turquoise suit of centura wool with white accessories and a white orchid on corsage. The new Mr. and Mrs. Gustus plan to live in Victoria.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. A. Quarmby and Mrs. M. Quarmby, Duncan; Mrs. L. Lindsay and her daughter, Stephanie, from Kitimat, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Adams, Nanaimo.

Rights of Women Protected

MONTREAL—A new organization has recently been established here to act as watchdog for the rights of women. The Women's Information Office was founded to gather information on the role of women today and to investigate public statements on this topic.

Director of the Women's Information Office is Miss Evelyn S. R. Hollander, a graduate of McGill University in Political Science and Philosophy and who for many years has been directly concerned with the problem of woman's status in North American life. The purpose of the Women's Information Office will be the collection and public evaluation of published data referring to the role of women in modern life.

Hospital Week Marked By Major Expansions

This is a year of major expansion for public hospital facilities in Greater Victoria.

ANDRE SUGGESTS

CRACKLING BURGUNDY

This advertisement is not published or displayed by the Liquor Control Board or by the Government of British Columbia.

A $1,000,000 construction program at Royal Jubilee is expected to be completed within a year.

St. Joseph's hopes to start work on a $4,000,000 expansion, including a new wing, before the end of 1965.

GOD TURNED
Sod has been turned for the new physical medicine treatment wing at Gorge Road Hospital, costing $212,000.

Rest Haven is planning a $2,000,000 hospital with 120 beds, for the Saanich Peninsula.

Officials at St. Joseph's are examining the report of a Toronto consultant who studied plans for phase three of a major improvement program.

FINAL PHASE
Phase two has been extended to take in laboratory and radiology departments.

The final $4,000,000 phase is being planned in line with the Toronto report. It is not known yet what the new wing will house.

Jubilee expansion includes a new school of nursing, more laboratory space, new boiler room and other improvements.

There will be a net gain of 15 beds for surgical and medical cases.

REPLACE HUTS

About $500,000 will be spent on a two-storey building to replace the army huts now used for the school of nursing.

The present isolation ward will be moved. It is now housed in a wooden building which has been condemned as a fire hazard.

The new boiler house will replace the existing plant installed in 1918.

NEW WING

This week, marked nationally as hospital week, also sees construction underway of the new wing at Gorge Road rehabilitation hospital.

Officials hope the physical medicine treatment wing will be in operation by October.

The wing will include an occupational therapy section, areas for physiotherapy treatment, passive physiotherapy, gymnasium, physical medicine office, and a hydrotherapy section consisting of a whirlpool bath and a therapy pool.

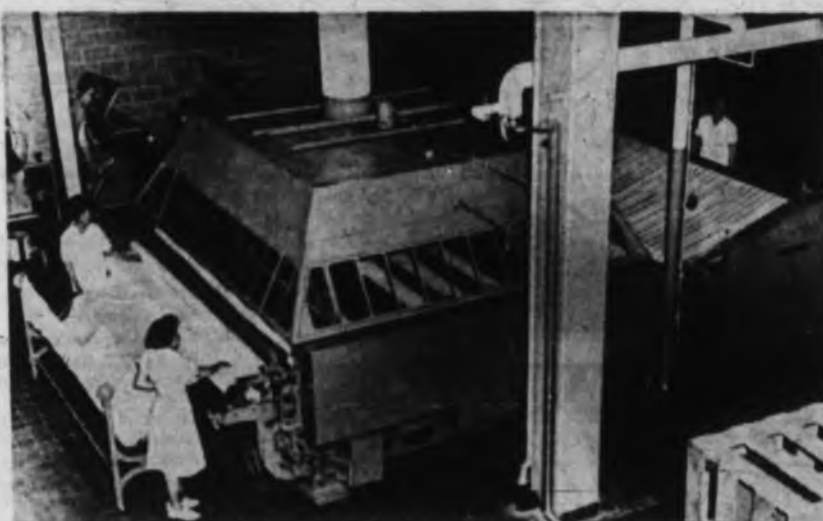

SPECIAL INTEREST

The inclusion of a hydrotherapy department, a much-valued form of therapy from the days of Hippocrates, is of particular interest.

Planning by Rest Haven officials include a hospital capable of maximum expansion to 200 beds within the next 20 years.

With complete expansion the new hospital would be worth $4,000,000.

Officials hope to first build the new 120-bed unit with laboratory, kitchen and X-ray facilities capable of handling the eventual expansion.

Typical of new equipment going into district hospitals is this $44,000 eight-roll flatwork ironer and automatic sheet folder. It will go into use later

New Chapel for St. John's

A chapel for the deposition of ashes of cremated persons has been installed in the crypt of St. John's Anglican Church.

The technical name for such facilities is a columbarium and in order to establish it, St. John's had to obtain provincial government sanction. This was granted by order-in-council.

The ashes will be placed in small panels with the name inscribed on the front. Eventually these panels will cover three walls of the chapel.

The fourth is occupied by an altar, adorned by three painted panels.

Garden Notes

By M. V. CHESNUT

During the next few weeks, one of the most important jobs in many gardens will be cleaning up the beds out front as the spring flowers finish blooming, and planting them up with summer-flowering annuals.

It is a bit of a problem what to do about the daffs and tulips still cluttering up these beds. The temptation is strong to amputate them at soil level with a sharp knife, but if you take this drastic action, you'll get no bulb flowers next year.

As I have pointed out before, the most important time in the life cycle of any perennial plant is the period immediately after flowering, for this is the time when the leaves are busy manufacturing nutrients to pump up the exhausted roots—recharging the batteries for next year, so to speak. This is a very wonderful process; more wonderful, when you think about it, than the way in which the human animal feeds himself.

In our case, we take in complex substances—sugars and starches and carbohydrates and all that—in the form of juicy steaks and succulent vegetables, and break them down within our digestive system into simple mineral salts which are used in body building. The plant reverses this procedure.

It takes in simple mineral salts in the form of a very dilute solution from the soil moisture, and pumps these raw materials up into the leaves. Here, a delicate manufacturing process takes place, powered by the sun, in which the minerals are combined into complex substances similar in many ways to the foods of the human animal.

These complex nutrients, manufactured in the tissues of the green leaves, are used for body building in the plant, just as we use our food, but in addition to making new branches, leaves and flowers, the perennial plant operates a food bank system.

Any excess over current requirements is stored away for use next year, and in the case of bulbs, tubers and corms, the food bank is the bulb itself. When the bulb has been plumped up sufficiently, it signals the leaves that their work has been accomplished, whereupon they knock off for the season, and the whole plant takes a well-earned rest.

As you can see from this, it would be the height of folly to chop off the leaves—the food factories—before they have finished their job of plumping up the bulbs. This is why you mustn't mow the grass in areas where bulbs are naturalized until the bulb foliage turns color and dies down naturally.

What can you do, then, to tidy up the beds in which daffs and tulips have finished flowering? Well, if you are well-heeled and cost is no object, you could treat your bulbs as expendable. Pull them up by the scruff of the neck, heave them over the back fence, and buy new ones next fall.

Or you could dig them up very carefully, taking a good ball of soil around the roots, and transplant them in a row in the vegetable plot out back to complete their growth. I should warn you, though, that a bulb in full growth is not easy to transplant successfully, and if the job is done carelessly, the top-growth will die down immediately, leaving the bulbs hungry and unsatisfied.

Probably the most satisfactory solution is to interplant tallish annuals among the bulbs, where their growth will at least partially conceal the fading bulb foliage. This is a rather messy-looking arrangement at first while the bulb top-growth is still very much in evidence, but it isn't for long. As soon as the bulb foliage turns brown or yellow, the dead top-growth can be cut off an inch below soil level, leaving the annuals in undisputed possession of the bed.

Should the bulbs remain in the ground from year to year undisturbed or should they be taken up, dried off and stored until fall? We'll kick that one around in a future article.

JOHN CROSBY Sees Quartette in Action

Beatles On Run — In Color

LONDON — The rain poured down on the Twickenham Stadium and the teen-agers endured the gate stoically outside it. There was no cover, no doorways, nothing to shelter them. Water poured down their little teen-age faces. They didn't seem to notice.

We pushed through a few police and inside on the sound stage we found Walter Shenson, the producer of A Hard Day's Night, which was shot for peanuts and made an improbable fortune. There were Beatles all over the place, all rather spectacularly dressed.

"We broke new ground last time in black and white," said Shenson. "This time we're going to break new ground in color. We're not doing any of the things we did in the first one. There will be no screaming teen-agers. The boys have written seven new songs, but none of them will be sung in front of an audience." Several of the Sunday papers

"Do you like making movies?" "It's all right," he said. "It's not a bad way to get through an afternoon."

This is the essence of the Beatles' style. They are artists at self-deprecation, masters of the throwaway line. Nothing ever surprises or fuses or impresses them. Paul was dressed in a six-button double-breasted suit, which is very hot stuff right now.

"The boys are very cool," said Shenson, "very cool." They certainly are. If they got any cooler, they would barely be breathing. But at the same time, like the other singers turned actors—Ming Crosby, Frank Sinatra—they are tugging into real pros.

Richard Lester, who directed the first Beatles film and is directing this one, was wandering around in blue jeans and sweat-shirt, looking like a badly-dressed stagehand. He said, "Here we go. John, George, Paul."

The three Beatles hopped right to it. It was a scene with all three of them flat on the floor, their heads into the trapdoor. Rings had fallen through.

"Good lord," said John, "it's Rajah, the famous man-eating Bengal tiger who just escaped from the zoo. All you have to do is whistle Beethoven's famous ninth symphony."

At least he tried to get through that line but blew it several times. You can hardly blame him. It's an odd bit of dialogue. "I only forgot one famous that time," he said, after he blew the line three times.

Suddenly the air was full of Beethoven's ninth, chorale and all, the Beatles, the cops, the barmaids all singing it. It was wild. Very funny bit.

"They play it cool," said Shenson, "but actually they love making movies. They go to all the rushes. They're really with it. They're very sharp. Very sharp."

No 'Group' at Vassar

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — The Group, from Mary McCarthy's best-selling novel, will be filmed this month in a college in New York State. But you can bet every cent you have it will not be in that abode of higher learning for ladies, Vassar, which happens to be Miss McCarthy's alma mater. The group, to be directed by Sidney Lumet, is a story of what presumably happens to some of the graduates of the mythical college in the book. It and the graphically descriptive goings-on are definitely unwelcome at Vassar.

Charles Feldman, the producer of The Group, is now in London supervising the editing of his recent picture, What's New, Pussycat? And it seems everything is to take "Pussycat" for a starter, the financial men wanted no part of Peter O'Toole because the movie is a comedy and Peter had never been funny in a film before. There was a big hassle with the insurance people over the inclusion of Peter Sellers, but the debonair Charlie has always had a way with him and he persuaded them to accept Sellers who actually has never been in such blooming health.

On Charlie's current ambulate is Mr. Fox of Venice, a modern version of Volpone, with Peter Sellers, Mrs. Sellers (Bette Midler) and Victor Mature; Casino Royale, which Feldman had the foresight to buy for relatively small change from the widow of my old Russian friend Gregory Bessif; Fair Game, the Broadway comedy of 1937; and Eternal Fire, from the Calder Willingham novel.

Hard Krueger, the fine German actor, is now in Hollywood co-starring with that equally excellent British star, Peter Finch, in Flight of the Phoenix. Hardy, a favorite of mine since his Sundays and Cybele, told me, "I make very few films in Hollywood because most of the scripts offered me are so bad. I have just refused Cross of Iron because I won't play any more German soldiers." Another thing Hardy won't do is discuss the old Nazi regime in Germany.

If I hear another picture being offered to those married lovers, Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, I shall scream. Some of the offers are genuine, but most producers latch on to the couple with phony production stories in order to get publicity. Anyway the latest producer to say he wants them, and this is probably on the level, is Marty Rothman, who will pay close to $2,000,000, I am told, to get Mr. and Mrs. Burton for Year of the Rat.

It seems that Jane Farrow couldn't get a job for the longest time, but now she is the darling of the eastern seaboard. I hear such things as "standing ovation every night" for his performance in Little Me, playing the mid-casual role. He is also popular with the producers who have seen his Ship of Fools performance. I hear nothing about marital bliss or otherwise with Bessie (Cassidy), mother of his five children, so I assume all is quiet on the reconciliation front.

Jack Lemmon is reading scripts again and that's good news. He has been taking it easy ever since his mild attack of hepatitis... Jane Fonda and Roger Vadim, each of whom has a home in Paris, are in no hurry to leave the soft sea breezes at Malibu. When Jane is asked, "when are you going to get married?" the reply, "We have no plans for marriage, but we are going steady." This courtship is steadier than most of Roger's previous marriages — Brigitte Bardot and Amanda Bergman.

I'm told Sidney Lumet's divorce from Juanita will be a toughie. Sidney wants the divorce in order to marry Blanche Carroll, but Juanita would just as soon remain Mrs. Lumet.

Metro's planning a redo of that great Greer Garson-Robert Donat classic, Goodbye, Mr. Chips with Julie Andrews and Rex Harrison; Richard Harris is going to try to excel Laurence Olivier in a new version of Wuthering Heights, and Ann-Margret (again!) and Richard Chamberlain will try to improve on Judy Garland and the late Robert Walker in The Clock.

Parades His Prejudices

Purely Personal Prejudices: The more a man knows, the harder it is for him to answer a "simple" question; for the greatest complexity often resides in the most "obvious" subject that everyone thinks he can explain to a child.

Women tend to be either indifferent or demanding toward men; the temperate zone is not one that is congenial to the feminine temperament, where men are concerned.

One can always tell a truly famous person by the fact that at least 10,000 persons went to school with him in the small town where he grew up.

The best, and briefest reason against censorship was given by Remy de Gourmont when he wrote: "Good books are irrefutable, and bad books refute themselves."

Nobody else seems to have as many illnesses and infirmities as the professional athlete; the only consistently healthy man on a team is the trainer.

To imagine that God recognizes the difference between a Presbyterian and a Turk is to debate His position to the value of a cosmic constabulary.

Some animals are brighter and some are dumber; but none is so stupid in one respect as the human animal, which is the only species to act, with depressing regularity, against its own nature and self-interest.

When a woman has reduced a man to bondage, she praises him as "dependable"; and when a man has reduced a woman to subjection, he praises her as "faithful."

It is a beguiling half-truth of Samuel Johnson's that "No man but a blunderer ever wrote except for money" — the other, unexpressed, half is that only a blockhead imagines that the rule of return bears any necessary relationship to the value of the writing.

How can a foreigner learn a language in which the anatomy of "disappointed" is "satisfied" rather than "appointed"?

What a person brags about is a better indication of his character than what he has accomplished; the boast, whether true or not, expresses an ideal that controls his unconscious behavior and shapes his deepest value-system.

A capacity for self-pity is the only thing that keeps some people alive; removing the grievances would be as disastrous as taking all nutrition away from a normal person.

Land for Tax Holiday Offered by Saanich Man

Saanich property owner C. G. Owen wants to trade council 10 acres of land for five years of free taxes.

But the barter isn't gaining much support. Mr. Owen pays $320 a year in taxes on 162 acres of property between Prospect Lake Road and Interurban Road.

He is offering 10 acres of land adjoining Saanich's Logan Park if the municipality will forget about the taxes for five years—a total value of $2,600.

BELOW PRICE

However, Municipal Planner Tom Loney reported the 162 acres has an assessed value of $10,740 and a market value of $125 an acre, or $1,250 for the 10 acres—$1,250 below Mr. Owen's selling price.

Mr. Owen also wanted council to widen and improve Viaduct Avenue, but Mr. Loney opposed the move because it would be too costly and would encourage premature subdivision of the area.

Council's lands and planning committee Monday asked for various departmental reports before considering the proposal, but both Coun. Leslie Passmore and William Campbell indicated they didn't favor a barter of any kind.

Municipal Engineer Neville Life will prepare a report on the cost of adequately improving Pipeline Road.

Council's public works committee asked for the report after receiving a petition from 45 property owners complaining of the "deplorable condition" of the road.

Coun. Edward Lum called the road "very narrow and dangerous" and said he had broken a car spring while driving over it.

Public works committee also recommended spending $30,500 to replace existing two-inch water mains with six, eight and 12-inch mains, mostly in the southern part of Saanich.

Oak Bay Questions Chamber Request

Oak Bay council has tabled a request from the chamber of commerce for increased trades licence fees, after a suggestion that the request might not represent the wishes of most businessmen. The chamber had called for a 10 per cent increase, to go to the Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau for tourist promotion.

Oak Trees Must Go

Some of these trees have to go. K. W. Symons, headmaster of St. Michael's school in Oak Bay, leans against one of the rare Garry oaks which will be removed to make way for road widening. "I hate to see them go," says Mr. Symons. "But we want the road widened." Others in area (Victoria Avenue between McNeil and Central) want to save the trees.—Bud Kinsman

Oak Bay Council

Higher Pay Bid Turned Down

Oak Bay council has rejected a suggestion from Metro Health Board that a salary offer be increased to encourage applications for the vacant post of school doctor in Greater Victoria.

The board asked for this authority from Greater Victoria municipalities, pointing out the post has been advertised since September and no suitable applications have been received.

But Oak Bay council, at Monday's meeting, accepted Coun. Dr. Harold Carter's suggestion that the board is aiming too high.

"Nurse would do" "For the job they want done, all they need is a general practitioner; even a health nurse would be sufficient," he said.

Instead the health board wants to hire a specialist with public health or child health diploma at up to $14,220 a year, or a physician with specialist certificate in public health or pediatrics at up to $15,300 a year.

"You will never get doctors who are interested in practising medicine to take this post, no matter how high the salary," said Coun. Carter.

"Doctors interested in treatment are not going to take a job

Motorecyclist In Hospital

A collision with a truck sent 18-year-old motorecyclist Philip Holloway, 708 East Saanich Road, to Rest Haven Hospital Monday night. He was in satisfactory condition.

Police said a truck driven by Jeff Peace, 18, of 2294 Shady Creek Road, was turning into Centennial Park at Wallace Drive when the crash occurred.

Flower Festival Has Lost Its Nine-Foot Rabbit

If anyone in the greater Victoria area finds a nine-foot rabbit, Patrick Frumento would be pleased to take it off their hands.

The rabbit was used during the spring flower festival children's costume parade. It was left behind the arena.

And that's the last anyone has seen of it, Mr. Frumento, festival chairman, said Monday. The committee still is looking for it.

FOOD PUBLICITY G. M. Owen reported 108 people took the bus tours of government and commercial bulb farms during the festival.

He blamed the poor turn-out on a lack of publicity.

Fred Usher, of the publicity sub-committee, said that if the tours had a little more glamour attached to them they would have been better attended, and publicity would have been better.

"Newsmen love beauty queens, fashion models, children in costume and nine-foot rabbits."

He had received "excellent" co-operation from press, television and radio newsmen.

Helen Belmes, fashion show chairman, reported 1,100 attended the show in the Empress Hotel, 398 more than in 1964.

LATER IN YEAR Stan Booker, of the marine pageant sub-committee, said early organization is "essential"; the festival should be held later in the year.

Fred Usher said his Daffodil Revue brought in 1,600 people, four times the 1964 attendance.

An estimated 4,500 saw the McPherson Playhouse art show, some of them between acts of the Daffodil Revue.

Story of Star

Harlow Here May 27

Harlow is coming to Victoria. This is the biggest news so far this year for local theatre owners, says Jack Krueger, manager of the Atlas.

The Atlas will be the first Victoria theatre to show William Sargent's Harlow production, which will hit North American theatres before the rival production staged by Joseph Levine.

1939 SEX QUEEN

Harlow will be showing at the Atlas starting May 27.

Hollywood has been planning to film the life of Joan Harlow, celluloid sex queen of the 1930s, for many years, said Mr. Krueger.

Both Kim Novak and Marilyn Monroe were groomed for the part at different times in their careers.

"Hollywood just never got around to it."

TWO MOVIES

Now there are two Harlow movies coming out at about the same time.

The Sargent production stars Carol Lynley. Levine is using Carroll Baker.

Although the Sargent film was started last, it finished first.

"It was finished in eight days' solid shooting. It was filmed in Electronovision, the process used to film Richard Burton's Hamlet."

The cast includes Ginger Rogers, Barry Sullivan, Eileen Zimba, Jr., Hurd Hatfield, Hermione Baddeley, Audrey Totter, John Williams, and Jack Krueger.

De Gaulle Loses Fight To Overthrow Dollar

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

NEW YORK (AP) — France has lost the battle in its gold fight with the U.S. dollar.

That is the opinion this week of those in the international financial community who assessed French President de Gaulle's efforts to promote a return to the gold standard.

One New York bank executive described the French president's efforts this way:

NOT LOGICAL

"De Gaulle should have used his military logic. It is unlikely that as a general he ever advocated frontal assault on forces that outnumbered him 8-to-1. Yet, economically, that is what he did when he attacked the dollar. The result, of course, is that he has been repulsed and is in a weaker bargaining position than before."

The banker based his comparison of economic strength on the gross national products of the two nations: France about $78,000,000,000 a year; the U.S., $34,000,000,000 in 1964. The GNP is the total output of goods and services in a year.

ATTACK DENIED

The U.S. contends that the strength of a nation's currency depends on the strength of the economy behind it, not on gold reserves. Even so, the U.S. owns about a third of the free world's gold supply.

The French deny that they attacked the dollar or its ally, the British pound sterling. They contend their position has been consistent in seeking reform of the international gold exchange standard.

The present gold exchange standard rests on the U.S. dollar as a reserve currency which can be converted at any time into gold by a foreign government at a fixed rate of $35 an ounce.

PUBLIC FANFARE

But during their heavy purchases of gold earlier this year — carried out with considerable public fanfare — the French questioned the convertibility of the dollar into gold. They contended the dollar is a weak currency.

Also, they urged revision of the gold exchange standard to eliminate the dollar as a key currency and re-establish the old basis whereby gold, not dollars, would be the medium for meeting international payments.

In the opinion of some financiers, the French purchases of some $975,000,000 in gold earlier this year were designed not only to demonstrate their claim that the dollar was shaky, but actually to force a devaluation of the dollar.

STATUS GROWS

Instead, U.S. counter-measures to protect the dollar — including the plan to reduce the balance of payments deficit — have strengthened the dollar's international status.

In the last week there were these developments in the gold fight:

● In Cannes, France, finance officials of the six European Common Market countries met. Reports from the meeting were that France not only has snuffed off its attack on the dollar, but also has abandoned its demand for radical reform of the gold exchange standard.

● In the U.S., statistical evidence mounted that it is stemming its outflow of dollars to meet international payments deficits.

● Despite the concentrated gold loss in the first few months of the year, there has been no decline in the U.S. monetary gold stock for nearly a month. It now totals $14,413,000,000.

● The market reflected the end of the latest gold battle. The price of gold in international markets dropped to its lowest level in months, hovering between $35.10 and $35.11 an ounce.

● The success of the U.S. payments program has dried up liquidity in Europe and interest rates on dollars in Europe have soared. The conversion of more than $1,000,000,000 of European-held dollars into gold during the last 12 months has contributed to the dry-up. Liquidity is an economic word that, in effect, means the amount of cash on hand to pay bills.

Several Surprises

Visitors Find Easter Island Neither Barren, Primitive

Chief Petty Officer Fred Joyce of the Royal Canadian Navy expected to find Easter Island a barren, almost treeless place with a primitive people virtually cut off from civilization when he went there with a Canadian medical expedition. In this story he tells what the Pacific Island, 2,600 miles west of Chile, is really like.

By FRED JOYCE

HALIFAX (CP) — Easter Island held several surprises for me and 37 other members of a Canadian medical expedition which spent two months there. Finding other sources inadequate, we turned to Thor Heyerdahl's book, Aka Aka, as a reference before we arrived. Heyerdahl's expedition visited the Pacific Island, 2,000 miles west of Chile, in 1955-56.

The book said only one ship visits the island each year. But during our time there, from mid-December to mid-February, we had visits from three ships, two Chilean and one French.

LOVELY LANDSCAPE

We had been led to believe that Easter Island, known to its inhabitants as Rapa Nui, was almost treeless. We found lovely landscape comparing favorably with the highlands of Scotland, and with parts of Nova Scotia. We did not know whether we would find a primitive people or just an isolated people. It was a happy experience to find the people of Rapa Nui friendly, honest and quite intelligent.

FRUIT TREES GROW

Large areas of the 46-square-mile island are treeless. But around the village of Hanga Roa, where most of the islanders live, there are many trees, including stands of eucalyptus, mirra, tahiti and mirra hiva. There are also numerous fig trees and banana groves.

The island also produces a number of coniferous trees, including cedar and boxwood. The natives decorate their homes with these for Christmas. The expedition, which was on Easter Island Dec. 25, had taken along two Canadian Christmas trees in the expedition ship Cape Scott's cold room. The trees were taken ashore just before the ship left, four days before Christmas. But they quickly turned brown in the prevailing 80 - degree daytime temperatures.

CO-OPERATIVE

Most of the islanders have their own garden plots and produce delicious pineapples and watermelon, as well as yams and squash.

The inhabitants co-operated extremely well with the expedition. Many local volunteers helped the expedition set up its camp and later worked around the laboratories. Some of them learned complicated techniques easily and were of great help.

WANT TO RETURN

The simple society of Easter Island is undergoing a change and the expedition's trip probably coincided with the last year of relative isolation.

The islanders of this Chilean dependency want a larger say in their own affairs. They also hope to establish some light industry to employ the many young people who have no work, other than tending their garden plots and producing the small wood carvings that are used for barter when ships visit the island.

SAD PARTING

The members of the expedition were asked on their return from Easter Island if they wanted to return to that beautiful and historic place. All expressed a wish to go back.

But as Rev. Sebastian Englert, the island missionary for more than 30 years, told us: "Leaving Easter Island is like leaving any other place in the world. Why? Because all visitors know in their hearts they will never come this way again. It is, I think the saddest parting of all!"

Still, we can hope.

Divorce:

Like Whisky— Costly Luxury

VANCOUVER (CP) — Divorce is similar to drinking whisky.

"It's popular, it's expensive and it's a luxury."

"If a woman wants her freedom she should be willing to pay something for it."

The statements were by Neil Fleishman, one of four lawyers participating in a panel discussion. All agreed that not all women should expect alimony.

Not all divorcees were entitled to support by their husbands, Mr. Fleishman said. "It becomes a shakedown if she says I'll divorce you, you so and so, but you're going to have to support me." Norma Christie said a younger woman without children should not be granted maintenance. "I'm against forcing older women into the labor market just because a husband fancy something a little slimmer and younger."

Wessin Resigns

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—Brig-Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, whose planes and tanks beat off Dominican rebels in the bloody first days of the Dominican revolt, resigned from the armed forces Monday under reported pressure from the United States. His retirement appears to have removed a major obstacle toward settling the Dominican crisis.

Wessin's resignation came after meetings with U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. and Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of the 21,000 U.S. marines and parachute troops in this troubled Caribbean country.

The tough career officer agreed to leave the army and his post as commander of the armed forces training centre, but balked at leaving the country. Col. Francisco Camacho Diaz, rebel-proclaimed provisional president, has been demanding that Wessin go abroad.

Rebels Stop Talking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rebel forces in the Dominican Republic suspended peace-making negotiations with the Organization of American States Monday.

The rebels announced they would not receive, converse or negotiate further with OAS representatives until Jose A. Bonilla Atlas is ousted as the Dominican Republic representative in the OAS.

Powderkeg

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker told the Organization of American States Monday that there is a "clear and present danger" that the Dominican Republic situation will erupt into large-scale hostilities unless peace and normalcy are quickly restored.

'False Statement'

Three Liberals Deny Money from Hal Banks

OTTAWA (CP)—Three Liberal MPs from Montreal denied in the Commons Monday allegations that they received campaign contributions in the last two elections from Hal Banks, deposed leader of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada (Ind.) and fugitive from Canadian justice.

The denials came in separate statements by John Turner (St. Lawrence St. George), Georges Laframboise (Lafontaine) and Edmond Asselin (Notre-Dame-de-Grace).

All three rose on questions of privileges and referred to a

South Korean Plot Ended

SEOUL (UPI)—The government Monday announced the arrest of at least seven army officers and some civilians for plotting a coup against South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

Sources here said Park had the situation well in hand and that it seemed unlikely the alleged plot would force postponement of his trip to the United States next Sunday.

About 40 alleged conspirators were under house arrest.

Russian Goal Moon Landing?

MOSCOW (UPI)—Russia's new mystery space probe will try to take photographs of the moon, and may even attempt something more spectacular in an effort to go one-up on the American lunar program, unofficial sources said today.

Moscow observers said the Russians might attempt to beat the U.S. surveyor program in making a soft landing of an instrument package on the moon. The latest report said the 1,347.3-pound Soviet craft, crammed with scientific equipment, was on "a course close to the planned one" and headed "in the direction of the moon."

It said Luna-5 had traveled 88,200 miles on the 250,000-mile trip. It was expected to arrive in the vicinity of the moon some-

Residents Convinced

Atomic Shadow Enshrouds Comox Valley

COURTENAY (Special)—Whether nuclear warheads are here or not, everyone in the Comox Valley feels sure they are living in the shadow of atomic bombs.

Ottawa reports Monday said special warheads for Genie air-to-air missiles were moved into RCAF Station Comox under strict security during the weekend.

Defence Minister Hellyer and Comox officials refused to confirm or deny the reports, leaving everyone in Comox, Courtenay and Cumberland insisting they are sure the warheads are here.

The report quoted "top sources" as saying the warheads will be stored on the base and attached for firing only in the event of a continental emergency.

In the Commons, Mr. Hellyer said in a reply to a question from Tom Barnett (NDP-Comox-Alberni) that "a number of RCAF aircraft now have this (nuclear) capability" but refused to "give specifics" about Comox or any other Canadian base.

LET PEOPLE KNOW

The reports said Mr. Hellyer and Mr. Barnett appeared to have made an arrangement to let the people of B.C. know the warheads had arrived.

At the same time, the wording of their exchange avoided violation of the Canada-U.S. agreement under which the minister can't say which stations have nuclear weapons.

AMERICANS HERE

A contingent of more than 30 U.S. personnel, led by Major H. Crutcheff, has been at the base for months.

The warheads stored at Comox under U.S. authority and guard can be carried only by RCAF planes on order from the U.S. president after agreement with Canada's prime minister. They are for the Voodoo jets of Comox' 489 Nighthawk Squadron.

NO COMMENT

Comox commanding officer Group Capt. E. G. Ireland declined comment on both the warheads and the Victoria-Comox peace march scheduled to start later this month.

The marchers hope to enter the base and say that, if they are barred, they will stage a sit-down on access roads for 24 hours or until arrested.

Air force spokesmen indicated Monday the marchers will not be allowed to enter the base and a campaign is planned to counteract any sit-down. They would not give details.

Klan Probe In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Alabama Attorney-General Richmond Flowers said Monday he intends to investigate the Ku Klux Klan, whether or not the probe is supported by Governor George Wallace.

"We're going to do something," said Flowers, a frequent critic of the segregationist governor's racial policies. "If I don't hear from him (Wallace), then I'm going ahead."

Curt Snub Handed Warsaw Pact Idea

LONDON (CP)—NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio Monday curtly dismissed Canadian External Affairs Minister Martin's suggestion that alliance members now might consider a non-aggression pact with the Communist bloc in Europe.

He was asked at a press conference on the eve of the opening of NATO's spring meeting whether he thought this might be an appropriate time to consider such a pact with the Warsaw powers.

"No," Brosio said without any elaboration.

To Keep Traffic Moving

New RCMP Patrol for Freeway

RCMP has set up a 25-member freeway patrol in the Fraser Valley, Attorney-General Bonner said Monday.

Its members will stress traffic management — keeping freeway traffic moving in safety — rather than enforcement, he said.

Freeway traffic control systems throughout North America were studied before the new detachment was set up.

Drivers Beware!

NANAIMO (Special)—A citizens' highway safety committee is being established here to help enforce the Motor Vehicles Act, it was announced Monday. (See picture, Page 23.)

Chairman George Stevens said the Vancouver Island Traffic Observer Corps will keep an eye out for flagrant driving offences. Members will do this work during regular driving rather than on a regular patrol basis.

Inside Job At Haney

HANEY, B.C. (CP)—Apparently one of the prisoners at the Haney Correctional Institute hasn't learned that crime does not pay.

Prison officials questioned a number of inmates following the theft of $800 from a safe in the institute's administration office.

The institute is a minimum security prison about 20 miles east of Vancouver.

Manitoba Adopts Red Ensign

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba legislature gave its final approval Monday to a provincial flag resembling the Red Ensign.

The legislature gave third reading to a bill to establish the flag. All that now is required to make the bill law is formal proclamation by Lieutenant-Governor Erick Willis.

The new flag bears the Union Jack at top left on a red background, like the Red Ensign. They differ at the fly, the Red Ensign showing the Canadian coat of arms; the Manitoba flag, the provincial coat of arms which gives prominence to the bison.

Wilson, a 39-year-old pilot with Dolphin Airways Ltd. in this mining town 225 miles south of the Manitoba-Northwest Territories border, was approaching Lynn Lake runway farther back.

He got a "few scratches" on the forehead, possibly from flying particles of the punctured window.

'Losses Too Large'

Society to Cancel Medical Coverage

Mrs. Helen Martin of Vancouver, secretary-treasurer of Fraser Valley Medical Services Society, said Sunday the society is cancelling its open enrolment community medical insurance plan at the end of this month.

About 800 persons—most of them elderly—will be affected. The plans are operated in Port Alberni, Campbell River, Nanaimo, Courtenay-Comox, Kelowna, Kamloops, Salmon Arm, Chilliwack and Vancouver's North Shore.

Mrs. Martin said the society has no alternative plan to offer them, but "I believe it won't be long before they can get coverage under the B.C. medicare plan."

AVERAGE AGE 70
The open-enrolment plan gave medical coverage to persons of any age. The average age of those in the plan was 70.

Mrs. Martin said the losses were so large "we couldn't ask members on other plans to underwrite it."

She said the society decided last August to charge patients one-fifth of the cost of medical expenses they incurred, but even this didn't meet the costs.

PORT ALBERNI — The latest victim of a May 2 highway accident which now has taken four lives, 17-year-old Mrs. Sharon Talian, will be buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery here Wednesday.

Prayers for Mrs. Talian, born in the west Island coast community of Esperanza, will be said at 7:30 p.m. today in Stevens' chapel and mass will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Holy Family Church.

Mrs. Talian died in St. Joseph's Hospital in Victoria, Saturday, six days after the two-car highway collision near Comox. She was a passenger in a car owned by Edward Jones and driven by Harry Cyr, Port Alberni residents who died instantly.

SON INJURED
Her 16-month-old son Darrell is in fairly good condition in St. Joseph's.

George MacGowan of Calgary, a passenger in the other car, died May 3 in St. Joseph's, where his wife Jean is in good condition. His brother Preston of Parksville is making progress in Nanaimo hospital.

Matilda Sabbas, the least seriously injured of the nine people in the two cars, is recovering in hospital here.

Chemainus Loggers Set New Cut Record

CHEMAINUS—The biggest single-day cut in the history of logging production here was recorded April 28 in the Chemainus division of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River, personnel manager George Beaulieu has announced.

He said the 1,004,000 board feet cut by three shifts was enough to build a small village. Logging has been going on in this area more than 100 years.

Duncan Court

Mother Pays Fine For Motorcyclist

DUNCAN—"We try to keep people from killing themselves," Magistrate D. K. Adams told the mother of a 21-year-old Westholme motorcyclist in magistrate's court Monday.

The mother of C. G. Hicks appeared for her son, who she said is working for Hillcrest Lumber Co.

She said one reason he was speeding on his motorcycle May 8 was because he was late for an appointment. Police told the court Hicks was clocked at speeds up to 90 miles an hour in a 60 zone on the highway, but Mrs. Hicks said the motorcycle cannot go faster than 80 miles an hour.

$50 FINE
The son was found guilty and the mother paid his $50 fine. Emerson Thomas, 15, of Saanich, was fined $50 for obstructing a policeman May 10. Police said the youth ran away when questioned and was finally caught by a citizen. Thomas said he was afraid because he had a bottle of liquor.

Barry W. Genis of Vancouver was fined $37 and S. S. Farmer of Duncan $30 for separate violations of the city anti-noise bylaw. Genis caused a loud noise by revving up his engine. Farmer was charged for tire squealing.

Alberni's Pool

Design Chosen

PORT ALBERNI—The Alberni Valley centennial committee, which has already recommended two projects to mark the 100th anniversary, has chosen a basic design for one of the two, the community swimming pool.

The committee approved in principle a design suited to the whole family, from the small learner to the accomplished swimmer.

Nanaimo Council Told:

Planners Discriminate Against Filling Station

NANAIMO—A city real estate agent told Nanaimo city council Monday night he thinks the advisory planning commission is "discriminating" against a city resident and a service station chain.

Allan Deering of Nanaimo Realty, co-owner of a piece of property at Terminal and Vancouver, was protesting the commission's rejection of a bid for rezoning to allow Hugh Sutherland to operate a Mobil service station.

He said the commission refused because of traffic congestion, nearby homes and the fact two service stations are located a few blocks away.

Mr. Sutherland is a former owner of the property, said Mr. Deering.

'HAILED OUT'
Mr. Sutherland sought rezoning for a service station several years ago but lost out because of a neighborhood petition. Mr. Deering said the planners "hailed out" this old petition in considering the new bid.

He said he "thinks it's discrimination against this man and the company."

'REAL FIGHT'
Mr. Deering said the planning commission "only thinks ahead one or two weeks" and added anyone coming here to open a business "has a real fight."

He urged council and the planners to "adopt a more liberal attitude."

Council decided to consider the matter at a closed meeting.

NEWCASTLE TOUR
Mayor Maffeo disclosed Recreation Minister Kiernan carried out his long-awaited tour of Newcastle Island Monday with M.L.A. Dave Stupich, the mayor and council members.

The city wants park development on Newcastle and the mayor said he felt Mr. Kiernan was "impressed."

CONTINUED PRESSURE
A letter to council from Mr. Stupich promised continued pressure on the highways department for a Millstone River bridge to ease traffic congestion.

Ald. Jack Parker said department officials had agreed the problem was "one of the most serious" in B.C. and indicated a bridge might come in less than five years.

Council decided parking meter regulations, now in force until 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday, will go on Friday until 9 p.m.

$6,000 Grant Aids Research

BURNABY (CP)—E. W. Fenton, who will come to Simon Fraser University from the University of Alberta next year to study physics, has been awarded a $6,000 post-doctoral fellowship by the National Research Council. He will work in theoretical solid state physics.

NANAIMO—A Nanaimo man appearing before Magistrate Lionel Beaver - Potts on 17 charges Monday wound up with fines totalling $85 and a two-year suspended sentence.

John Hanlon pleaded guilty to five charges of theft over $50 by conversion, five charges of theft under $50 by conversion, six charges under Sales Tax regulations and one charge of failing to take out a business licence in the Courtenay area.

He was given suspended sentences on the charges of theft by conversion and fined $10 on each of the six sales tax charges and $25 on the business licence charge. He was also ordered to pay $50 for the Courtenay business licence.

MAKING RESTITUTION
Defence counsel William Verchere told the court restitution on the theft by conversion charges is almost completed.

The theft and sales tax charges involve a Ladysmith furniture store.

Court was told Hanlon was authorized by officials of the store to collect overdue bills and neglected to turn the money over to the firm.

There were three tiny birds in the nest — they looked about three days old—but one had been injured fatally.

David Hjalmarson, 15, put the survivors back in the nest and put it in another tree. But the mother robin was too frightened to return to her babies so the family took over.

David, Eric, 14 and Karen, 11, help feed the baby robins every 1½ to two hours, except at night.

Their mother says she began feeding them every half-hour at first but found it was too much for them.

Police, Fire In Duncan 'Should Know'

DUNCAN—The city should notify policemen and firemen of any street closures in future, Mayor Dobson agreed Monday night.

He spoke after traffic and safety chairman Ald. James Saunders noted Trunk Road was closed for two days during recent roadwork without any notification to the fire department.

Ald. Saunders also said the death of a man was "plugged solid" at times during the day. Ald. Hamish Mutter said he received complaints about a traffic jam and phoned city clerk Gordon Berry, who phoned police, who sent a man to direct traffic.

UNDER NOSES

Pointing out the police station is on James, Ald. Saunders said: "I don't think we should have to notify the police. I wouldn't condemn them if they couldn't see the problem, but it was right under their noses."

Mayor Dobson said there was a lack of city police co-ordination.

HIGHWAY PATROL

There are 14 or 15 policemen at the Duncan RCMP detachment and the city pays for four while the rest are for North Cowichan and the highway patrol.

A letter from the detachment asked for an extra man in 1966. Council decided to consider the matter and invite detachments, chief Sgt. Tom Wilde to a future council meeting to discuss the matter.

'NUISANCE' NOISE

R. D. Howard, 544 Trunk, complained about "nuisance" noise from loudspeakers used by businesses, including supermarkets and service stations.

Mayor Dobson said the city supports the use of loudspeakers to help business. After a discussion of possible permits and use of the anti-noise bylaw, council decided to visit the businesses concerned to discuss the matter. Council also:

• Named Ald. Saunders acting mayor while Mayor Dobson is in eastern Canada on business.

• Referred to its health committee a request from the central Island health board for funds. No such request was made in 1963 or 1964.

• Gave its streets committee a petition from 10 Berkeley Street residents seeking permanent repairs in the near future.

17-Count Offender Fined in Nanaimo

NANAIMO—A Nanaimo man appearing before Magistrate Lionel Beaver - Potts on 17 charges Monday wound up with fines totalling $85 and a two-year suspended sentence.

John Hanlon pleaded guilty to five charges of theft over $50 by conversion, five charges of theft under $50 by conversion, six charges under Sales Tax regulations and one charge of failing to take out a business licence in the Courtenay area.

He was given suspended sentences on the charges of theft by conversion and fined $10 on each of the six sales tax charges and $25 on the business licence charge. He was also ordered to pay $50 for the Courtenay business licence.

MAKING RESTITUTION
Defence counsel William Verchere told the court restitution on the theft by conversion charges is almost completed.

The theft and sales tax charges involve a Ladysmith furniture store.

Court was told Hanlon was authorized by officials of the store to collect overdue bills and neglected to turn the money over to the firm.

Nip and Tuck Thriving on Diet of Pre-Dug Worms

Adopted Robins Happy as Larks

By JEAN BAIR

COBBLE HILL — Two baby robins who accidentally joined the Fred Hjalmarson family on Hutchinson Road about three weeks ago are thriving under the care of the Hjalmarsons and their three children.

Their adoption occurred April 24 when Mr. Hjalmarson was clearing land next to his home. He was cutting down a clump of trees with a powersaw when he noticed a robin's nest in a cedar he had felled.

There were three tiny birds in the nest — they looked about three days old—but one had been injured fatally.

David Hjalmarson, 15, put the survivors back in the nest and put it in another tree. But the mother robin was too frightened to return to her babies so the family took over.

David, Eric, 14 and Karen, 11, help feed the baby robins every 1½ to two hours, except at night.

Their mother says she began feeding them every half-hour at first but found it was too much for them.

The birds, named Nip and Tuck by the children, chirp when they're hungry and are ready to eat any time anyone comes near them. But they're quiet from a feeding just before the family retires at night until 6 or 6:30 a.m., when they hear the noises of the family getting up.

They have not yet learned to dig worms for themselves in the compost heap but stay near members of the family when they're taken there for a feeding.

Nip and Tuck are fully feathered now and a few days ago a chicken wire pen was built outside the home so the birds can practice flying.

They have been banded and will be released when they are old enough to fend for themselves.

"It will be interesting to see if they come back here next year," says Mrs. Hjalmarson, "but right now we are enjoying watching them grow up."

"They are so interesting," she added, "but they can be awful time wasters."

Wessin

He's Out He's Back

SANTO DOMINGO (AP) — U.S. embassy sources said early today that Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin had agreed to resign from the Dominican Republic's military service, then changed his mind.

The U.S. government had pressed for the resignation as a conciliatory move to the Dominican rebels whose revolt Wessin's troops blocked. For many Dominicans Wessin had become the symbol of loyalist opposition to the Rebel movement for a return to "constitutional government."

U.S. sources said Wessin sent a letter Sunday to U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett in which he expressed a willingness to resign from the army for the good of the country. The letter was written after he met with Bennett and Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of 21,000 U.S. Marines and paratroopers in the Dominican Republic. Col. Francisco Camacho Dasso, the rebel-proclaimed provisional president, has been demanding that Wessin resign and go abroad.

Holed up in a maze of crowded apartment houses and business buildings, the rebels showed no tendency Monday to capitulate to a tank and howitzer-backed force of U.S. and Dominican troops surrounding them. Rejecting an invitation to quit the revolt, Camacho's insurgents appeared to be organizing their stronghold in Ciudad Nueva, a low-income residential

'False Statement'

Three Liberals Deny Money from Hal Banks

OTTAWA (CP) — Three Liberal MPs from Montreal denied in the Commons Monday allegations that they received campaign contributions in the last two elections from Hal Banks, imprisoned leader of the Red Star International Union of Canada (IUC) and fugitive from Canadian justice.

The denials came in separate statements by John Turner (St. Lawrence St. George), George Lachance (Lafontaine) and Edmund Amelin (Notre-Dame-de-Grace).

All three rose on questions of privileges and referred to a

South Korean Plot Ended

SEOUL (UPI) — The government Monday announced the arrest of at least seven army officers and some civilians for plotting a coup against South Korean President Park Chung Hee.

Sources here said Park had the situation well in hand and that it seemed unlikely the alleged plot would force postponement of his trip to the United States next Sunday.

About 40 alleged conspirators were under house arrest.

WATERBURY, Vt. (UPI) — Five inmates of the Waterbury State Mental Hospital, two of them killers, escaped from the institution late Monday night.

The men stole a late model car from the hospital parking lot after fleeing the minimum security institution.

State police described the men as "potentially dangerous."

One of the fugitives was identified as Robert Murray, 37, of Richmond, recently transferred to the hospital from a prison where he was serving a life term for murder.

Another was identified as Kent Hanson, 21, of Brattleboro, committed after being found mentally incompetent to stand trial for the rifle slaying of his young wife.

Cold Shoulder for Martin

Curt Snub Handed Warsaw Pact Idea

LONDON (CP) — NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio Monday curtly dismissed Canadian External Affairs Minister Martin's suggestion that alliance members now might consider a non-aggression pact with the Communist bloc in Europe.

He was asked at a press conference on the eve of the opening of NATO's spring meeting of foreign ministers whether he thought this might be an appropriate time to consider such a pact with the Warsaw powers.

"No," Brosio said without any elaboration.

South Dakota Snowed Under

To Keep Traffic Moving

New RCMP Patrol for Freeway

RCMP has set up a 24-member freeway patrol in the Fraser Valley, Attorney-General Bonner said Monday.

Its members will stress traffic management — keeping freeway traffic moving in safety — rather than enforcement, he said.

The freeway patrol is the first to be set up in Canada by the federal force.

In Ontario and Quebec, freeways are patrolled by the provincial police forces.

Freeway traffic control systems throughout North America were studied before the new detachment was set up.

Mr. Bonner said there will also be increased stress on traffic management by other RCMP highway patrols throughout the province.

Up-Island, said the attorney-general, highway patrols have been "slightly" strengthened to handle this new role.

Courtesy patrols of the highway department will continue to assist RCMP in traffic management, particularly at "sticky spots" like bridges and turnoffs, Mr. Bonner said.

Drivers Beware!

Inside Job At Haney

HANEY, B.C. (CP) — Apparently one of the prisoners at the Haney Correctional Institute hasn't learned that crime does not pay. Prison officials questioned a number of inmates following the theft of $400 from a safe in the institute's administration office.

The institute is a minimum security prison about 30 miles east of Vancouver.

Manitoba Adopts Red Ensign

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Manitoba legislature gave its final approval Monday to a provincial flag resembling the Red Ensign.

The legislature gave third reading to a bill to establish the flag. All that now is required to make the bill law is formal proclamation by Lieutenant-Governor Erick Willis.

The new flag bears the Union Jack at top left on a red background, like the Red Ensign. They differ at the fly, the Red Ensign showing the Canadian coat of arms; the Manitoba flag, the provincial coat of arms which gives prominence to the bison.

STRASBOURG, France (Reuters) — The European Economic Community's parliament came out Monday in favor of increased trade with Communist countries, especially those of eastern Europe.

Mystery Bullets Nick Bush Pilot

LYNN LAKE, Man. (CP) —

Bush pilot Morley Wilson missed a scratched forehead Monday as RCMP tried to find out who fired four bullets into his plane.

Wilson, a 19-year-old pilot with Dolphin Airways Ltd. in this mining town 225 miles south of the Manitoba-Northwest Territories border, was approaching Lynn Lake when for a landing Sunday, when one bullet glanced off a propeller tip. Another went through the right side window of the aircraft, through the peak of Wilson's hat and out just above the left window.

He got a "few scratches" on the forehead, possibly from flying particles of the punctured window.

Two more bullets struck the plane farther back.

Atomic Shadow Enshrouds Comox Valley

COURTENAY (Special) — Whether nuclear warheads are here or not, everyone in the Comox Valley feels sure they are living in the shadow of atomic bombs.

Ottawa reports Monday said special warheads for Genie air-to-air missiles were moved into RCAF Station Comox under a strict security curtain during the weekend.

Defence Minister Healy and Comox officials refused to confirm or deny the reports, leaving everyone in Comox, Courtenay and Cumberland insisting they are sure the warheads are here. The report quoted "top sources" as saying the warheads will be stored on the base and attached for firing only in the event of a continental emergency.

In the Commons, Mr. Healy said in a reply to a question from Tom Barnett (NDP-Comox-Alberni) that "a number of RCAF aircraft now have this (nuclear) capability" but refused to "give specifics" about Comox or any other Canadian base.

LET PEOPLE KNOW

The reports said Mr. Healy and Mr. Barnett appeared to have made an arrangement to let the people of B.C. know the warheads had arrived.

At the same time, the wording of their exchange avoided violation of the Canada-U.S. agreement under which the minister can't say which stations have nuclear weapons.

AMERICANS HERE

A contingent of more than 30 U.S. personnel, led by Major H. Crutchfield, has been at the base for months.

The warheads stored at Comox under U.S. authority and guard can be carried only by RCAF planes on order from the U.S. president after agreement with Canada's prime minister. They are for the Vandoo jets of Comox' 409 Nighthawk Squadron.

NO COMMENT

Comox commanding officer Group Capt. E. G. Ireland declined comment on both the warheads and the Victoria-Comox peace march scheduled to start later this month.

The marchers hope to enter the base and say that, if they are barred, they will stage a sitdown on access roads for 24 hours or until arrested.

Air force spokesman indicated Monday the marchers will not be allowed to enter the base and a campaign is planned to counteract any sitdown. They would not give details.

Klan Probe In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Alabama Attorney General Richmond Flowers said Monday he intends to investigate the Ku Klux Klan, whether or not the probe is supported by Governor George Wallace.

"We're going to do something," said Flowers, a frequent critic of the segregationist governor's racial policies. "If I don't hear from him (Wallace), then I'm going ahead."
